Student Loses Gold To Customs

Cecilio Alvarez-Sanchez, graduate student at the University of Wisconsin from Venezuela, has lost five bars of gold to the U.S. Customs, according to reports. Value of the bars was more than $100 each.

Alvarez-Sanchez has had the gold bars since 1958 when he bought them at a Swiss bank. But he failed to declare them when he entered the United States at that time. They have been in a safety deposit box in Madison, Wis., since then.

According to the law, gold brought into the United States without declaration at customs must be seized and forfeited, and the owner fined its value.

Details of the investigation were not revealed.

The owner in this case said he had not declared the gold because customs officials had not asked him if he had any. He said he had bought it to add to his collection of gold coins. The bars weighed 100 grams each and were of pure metal.

In charge of the case were Frank Braun, a U. S. customs agent of Chicago, and Secret Service men.

Alvarez-Sanchez is a former Venezuelan congressman studying for a master's degree in political science.

Proof Sets To Be Prorated

Quantity orders of 1961 proof sets are being prorated by the Philadelphia Mint according to letters received by several collectors, Coin World has learned.

Seventy-five sets are being shipped where one hundred were ordered, according to reports. An accompanying letter states the additional 25 sets will be shipped if the rate of production allows this.

New Monetary Hall Opens At Smithsonian Institution

Reconstruction of a coin-stamper designed by the Italian artist-inventor, Leonard da Vinci (1452-1519), is on view at the Smithsonian Institution's new Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art. The Hall was officially opened to the public March 18.

Schulman Announces More Fall Tour Plans

"The Coins of the Mediterranean Area" will be the theme of a series of lectures to be given by some of the world's most famous numismatic scholars in Rome, Hans F. M. Schulman revealed today as he disclosed details of preparation for the numismatic section of the Coin Tour to Europe September 4-28.

All lectures and seminars will concentrate on this topic, the internationally famous New York numismatist - turned - tour - conductor disclosed.

The International Association of Professional Numismatists, a dealer's organization, will discuss commercial aspects of numismatics in Rome, but two scientific matters will receive their attention, Schulman said.

These include:

Counterfeits and what to do about them, how to document them.

Publishing of books on copies hitherto not properly published.

"In our visits to Paris and Amsterdam, we will also have an opportunity to study numismatics," Schulman said.

Xavier Calico and Fernando Calico, both in Barcelona, have expressed great pleasure that so many American numismatists are coming to Rome.

Schulman is asking such well known dealers as Emile Bonogey, Serge Boutin, Marcel Platt, Madame Kalapadji and Jean Vinchon to assemble one afternoon in one hotel to meet and discuss numismatics. Those who have specialized wishes can go to their establishments for further appointments, Schulman said.

"I will suggest that these dealers bring some coins with them to the meeting," he continued.

There is to be a guided tour to the collection of the Bibliotheque Nationale, the world-famous collection of coins of the French government. Curator LaFaurie, prominent authority, will be asked to welcome members of the tour.

The Amsterdam Schulman, Cousin Jacques Schulman, will receive the party in the oldest numismatic building known - the Schulman building which was constructed in 1690.

Hans Schulman revealed that in 1956—for the first time—restoration work was done in the basement. He said the building was still as it was constructed centuries ago. The travelers will see the oldest auction room and the largest library.

"Cousin Jacques will be asked to give a short lecture on a topic of numismatics of interest to all," Schulman said.

April 15 is the deadline for the mailing of deposits to join the "numismatist's dream vacation" — 24 days in Europe, Schulman reminded.

Full details of the six different coin tour plans are found in Coin World editions of March 16 and March 23.

Meeting Place Safe

Members of the Barrington, Ill., Coin Club have chosen a new meeting place for their group, probably one of the safest in town. Its meetings in 1961 will take place in the court room of the Barrington Police station. Interested visitors are welcome.

History, Medallion Art Presented In New Exhibit

The Smithsonian Institution's new Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art opened to the public in Washington on Saturday, March 18, in the Arts and Industries Building, Ninth Street and Jefferson Drive on the Mall, according to an announcement made by Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian.

The main display in this new hall is dedicated to Monetary History and illustrates in a sequence of 19 specially designed cases the major aspects of the development of money economy from the beginning of primitive barter to the establishment of our modern monetary systems.

The exhibits have been arranged to show the evolution of money within the sequence of significant historical events, and as an integral part of the cultural development of human society. Special emphasis has been given to the development of the various forms of currencies in North America and their role in the economic and political growth of the United States.

Curator-Team Honored By Large Crowd

By D. Wayne Johnson

Over 200 people showed up for the opening of the Smithsonian coin exhibit in Washington, D. C., Saturday afternoon, March 18.

This was a tribute to the husband and wife curatorial team of Dr. and Mrs. Vladimir Clain-Stefanelli who are responsible for the nation's only public coin collection.

The preview, held Saturday before the opening to the public Sunday, March 19, attracted diplomats, government officials, friends of the Smithsonian Institution, and numismatists.

The guest list contained many prominent people. Mr. and Mrs. Willis H. duPont, who had donated a collection of Russian coins and medals, were there. Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon was there.

There was a senator, an ambassador, and many numismatists in attendance, some who had traveled quite a distance to attend this opening.

The number of people who appeared at the opening surprised even Dr. Leonard Carmichael, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who expressed his pleased astonishment in his introductory speech.

I won't comment on the coins in this display since this is covered in an adjacent story, but everyone spoke of the unique arrangements of the exhibit.

Each coin is in an individual plastic holder which is fastened to a metal background. I'm going to give away a trade secret here. The wording and pictures appearing on the metal panel was placed on there by the silk screen process using a nylon mesh screen.

This is a new process for museums and the result is truly outstanding. It produces the effect that the titles and lettering are printed, and makes a quality display.

"This is a perfectly wonderful display," said Hon. and Mrs. R. Henry Norweb, outstanding numismatists from Cleveland, Ohio. "We don't know of any other place in the United States that has done anything like it!"

Washington lawyer, Ralph Becker, commented "Most wonderful exhibit". Becker had donated a 30 year collection of political Americana to the Smithsonian Institution last June.

"Displays of coins, tokens, and paper currencies have been arranged in their historical and cultural context, rather than by conventional classifications. These exhibits are indeed a significant advancement in our efforts to bring the great educational resources of the Smithsonian to the public," Dr. Carmichael said.

The Hall of Monetary History was planned and its construction supervised by Mrs. E. Clain-Stefanelli, associate curator of the Smithsonian's Division of Numismatics. The exhibits were designed by Harry Hart, they were prepared and installed by Frank Gambino's team of exhibits preparators under the overall direction of Bella S. Bory, assistant chief of exhibits, and Benjamin W. Lawless Jr., who is in charge of the Exhibits Laboratory of the Museum of History and Technology.

"We have grouped our coins to make some sense out of them," said Mrs. Clain-Stefanelli. "We have placed the coins in exhibit cases which will show in what period of history they belong."

"It took more than two years to gather the material and develop

Dealer Held For Questions

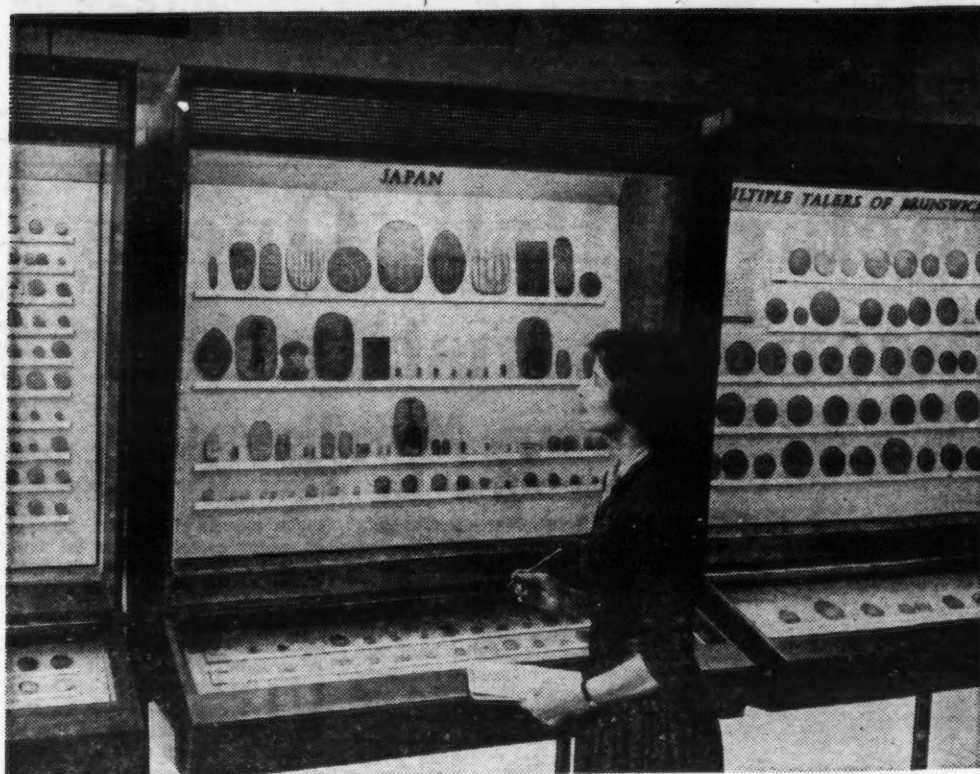

A Montreal coin dealer was picked up and questioned by Canadian police March 16 regarding a series of coin dealings involving members of the Professional Numismatists Guild, a United States dealer organization, P.N.G. officials revealed.

Albert C. DesPress, operator of the Montreal Coin Company, 227 Victoria Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, was questioned according to Sol Kaplan, executive vice president of the organization.

The P.N.G. is planning to prosecute according to Kaplan. He asks that anyone, P.N.G. member or not, who has had any unsatisfactory dealing with DesPress should write to him and furnish evidence of the claim.

Kaplan's address is: 413 Race Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

New Realm For Money And Its History

Stellar 'Cast' For Show

The "show" at the Smithsonian Institution's new Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art unfolds in this order, according to Curators Dr. and Mrs. V. Clair-Stefanelli:

(1) "Moneyless Economies" featuring, for instance, a Sumerian business document from the second millennium B.C. and followed by

(2) "The First Coins" with examples of the first coins struck by the Greeks during the 7th and 6th centuries B. C.

(3) "The Hellenic World" showing ing the wide range of Greek city coinages, and issues having already the character of "world currencies";

(4) "Ancient Rome" covering the entire evolution of Roman coinage from the third century B. C. to the fourth century of our era; (5) "Byzantine Empire" (491-1453) including also the Invaders of the West and the challenge of the Islamic world;

(6) "The Penny" shown as the dominating coin of the western world in the middle ages up to the 13th century;

(7) "The Revival of Gold" resulting from the reopening of trade between East and West by the Crusades;

(8) "Groats and Testons," the issuance of the first resulting from the need for a larger trade coin created by the Crusades, the latter being "coins with portraits" struck since 1472;

(9) "The Dollar," the large silver issued in the late 15th century, which became so highly significant in world economy.

"The New World" is the title of a special panel suggestive of the first coins struck in the western hemisphere in the Mexico City Mint at the beginning of the reign of Charles and Johanna of Spain (1536-56). It is followed by a monetary history of North America which starts with:

(1) "Barter on the Frontier" an illustration of the trade of the primitive Indians and the hardships of the white man on the advancing Frontier, when only a few hundred years back, Dentalium shells, Wampum, skins of animals and so many other articles were used in lieu of money.

(2) "Colonial Money, 1607-1764" shows examples of English, Dutch and French coins brought by the early settlers, and the first coins struck in Massachusetts in 1653 as well as early paper currency issues.

(3) "Spirit of Independence, 1764-1787" comprises paper bills issued by the States and by the Continental Congress, coins of the States struck after the Declaration of Independence, finally various private issues.

(4) "Building a Nation" shows the creation by the new government of a national currency and the organization of the first national banks.

(5) "The U. S. Mint," illustrates the first regular U. S. coins issued.

(6) "Economic Adjustments, 1812-1860," a period marked by a series of financial crises and the institution of various banking systems intended to guarantee financial stability. The gold discoveries in Georgia, North Carolina and California resulting in a variety of private gold issues are also featured.

(7) "U. S. Coin Designs" illustrates the methods used by the outstanding U. S. Mint engraver, Christian Gobrecht (1758-1844) in the production of coin dies.

(8) "War and Reconstruction, 1860-1873" depicts the different currencies and monetary intermediates — from cardboard money and encased postage stamps to the first U. S. "green backs" as well as some of the Confederate issues of this troubled period.

(9) "Rise of Modern America 1873-1900" is dedicated to the economic expansion taking place during the later part of the 19th century and the establishment of a virtual gold standard.

(10) "The Twentieth Century" with the Federal Reserve System and the introduction of a managed gold standard, concludes the Monetary History Exhibit.

the displays," she disclosed. "And it presented some problems."

The problems included how to illustrate the ancient Egyptians' use of the barter method, and what would be the best way to show visitors that one of the first "coins" was a heavy piece of metal, the same size and shape as an ox hide.

The answers to these problems are contained in the exhibit itself, where drawings copied from ancient Egyptian documents illustrated the barter, and a scaled down reproduction of an ox hide represented the coin.

A carefully lettered sign tells you the "coin had the value of a live ox."

Mrs. Clain-Stefanelli said the exhibit is the only one of its kind in the world. She declined to estimate the value of the exhibit because some of the coins and bills are the only ones in existence.

Hand in hand with the modernization program of exhibits went a systematic over-all increase of the National Numismatic collections. The curator of the Division of Numismatics, Dr. V. Clain-Stefanelli, directed during the last few years all his efforts towards adding to the collections materials that are representative of the vast field encompassed by this division, and which will make it possible to plan for the numerous other displays that will be shown in the new building of the Museum of History and Technology on Constitution avenue.

In October, 1957, the collections consisted of about 65,000 specimens. Three years later, the total number of coins, medals, and paper currencies nearly doubled and amount today to approximately 120,000 objects.

Several topical displays complete the basic monetary history exhibit. The themes of these displays are: "The Origin of Coin Names," "The Reformation," "Confederate Currencies," and "State Bank Notes."

A reconstruction of a coin-stamper designed by the renowned Italian artist and inventor Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1519) is also on view. It marks the introduction of mechanization in coin-making techniques; the machine was built for the Smithsonian Institution in the exhibits laboratories of the International Business Machines Corporation by Dr. Roberto Guatelli.

A significant section of the Hall is dedicated to the United States Mint Collection. This section is of unusual importance since it is representative of the oldest collection owned by the Government.

It had its inception in 1792 at the United States Mint in Philadelphia. Each year the chief coiner, Adam Eckfeldt, would set aside a specimen of each type and date of coin minted. He retained also some of the finest specimens, as they appeared in deposit for coinage.

The Mint collection was increased systematically through purchases made possible by an annual appropriation from Congress since 1839.

This original mint collection was transferred to the Smithsonian after the First World War and is known for the unique or extremely rare pieces it contains.

One of its sections is devoted to the pattern or experimental pieces which were made at the Mint as early as 1792 and continued up until fairly recent years. Many of these designs were never adopted, but they served a useful purpose in helping coin-engravers arrive at a design that would be attractive as well as resistant to wear. The artistic merit of some of these patterns is indeed unusual. Others are notable for their historical import — the fifty dollar gold pieces dated 1877, designed by William Barber, and the so-called metric issues of 1879 and 1880.

The Hall features also the world's largest collection of gold coins on public display, that of the late Paul A. Straub. It is a type collection consisting of 1850 gold coins of Europe and the Americas.

Almost 4000 silver coins of the world complete this series. Remarkable, among others, is the group of oversize multiple talers of the Brunswick duchies issued mainly during the 17th century. A study of the elaborately detailed mining landscapes on some of these coins led to new contributions to the knowledge of early mine-pumping devices. (Published in "Contributions from the Museum of History and Technology": Paper 7, Washington, D. C. 1959).

On view are also some outstanding specimens from the Willis H. du Pont donation of Russian coins and medals received in 1959 and 1960. It is an authoritative collection paralleled only by the Ermitage in Leningrad and the selections are displayed in two cases.

One of them illustrates coinages issued between 1700 and 1740 by the Tsars Peter the Great, Peter II, and Anna; while the other one depicts the life and political aims of Peter the Great as evidenced on medals.

One outstanding collection included in the permanent exhibit of foreign gold is the collection of rare Japanese pieces presented in 1880 to General Grant, by the Japanese government in return for a thorough-bred stallion given by the general to the Emperor.

The completion of this Hall would not have been possible without the assistance of many public and private institutions and organizations as well as the most generous help of numerous benefactors and friends of the Institution, according to officials. Some of them include the American Antiquarian Society, Helen L. Boyd, Catherine E. Bullowa-Moore, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Philip H. Chase, the First New Haven Bank.

Julia Dent Grant, W. H. Vanderbilt, International Business Machines Corporation, Eric P. Newman Numismatic Education Society, Honorable and Mrs. R. Henry Norweb, Willis H. du Pont, Olga L. Raymond, Joseph B. Stack, Morton Stack, Paul A. Straub, United States Mint.

"We are remembering with gratitude the many Friends of our Institution who made this spectacular success possible. . . ." the Smithsonian officials acknowledged.

Johnson . . .

Mendel L. Peterson, Head Curator, of the Department of Armed Forces History, went so far as to say: "This is the finest numismatic exhibit anywhere in the world."

As a historian he pointed out coins sometimes are the only tangible evidence of early cultures and rulers.

The same exclamations were repeated by everyone! All this was in tribute to the curators who had designed and carried out the project, Dr. and Mrs. Clain-Stefanelli.

The couple is a perfect pair for the position. Dr. Clain-Stefanelli is the numismatist and has been since he was 15 years old. Mrs. Clain-Stefanelli is primarily a historian but has an extensive working knowledge of numismatics.

We will cover the Smithsonian coin collection in detail in our special Coin World vacation edition in May, but I urge every coin collector in America to plan on visiting Washington and seeing this exhibit. You won't regret it!

Coin Keg Rubbed?

The term, "keg rubbed," might surprise modern numismatists, but it was familiar during Civil War coinage — the copper cents were shipped in kegs from the Mint.

West Coast Dealer Buys Breen Find

Henri Heller

Growing interest has developed over the newly-discovered specimen of Barber dime overdate, an 1893 over 2, Philadelphia Mint, following a major transaction on the West Coast.

Henri N. Heller, Pacific Coast coin dealer and owner of the House of Green and Gold, Carmel, Calif., has reported the purchase of the coin from Walter H. Breen who discovered the previously unknown Barber variety in January and displayed it at the Numismatic Association Convention of Southern California on March 3.

Purchase price for the coin, the only known overdate in the Barber dime series, was not disclosed.

Several substantial purchase offers were made to the new owner within hours after the transaction was known.

Heller said that he had no immediate plans for selling the coin and would not hazard a guess as to its worth except to say that it was of "substantial value."

Heller, a frequent lecturer on numismatics in Southern California, said that his Barber dime overdate has "all the magnetism and attributes of the great rarities."

"It is significant," he said, "that 68 years elapsed before this particular variety was even known to be in existence."

The new owner is certain that others were struck and may yet be discovered.

"However," Heller said, "it is hardly likely that after 68 years, there would be many left in a condition allowing for positive authentication."

Smithsonian Head Credits Generosity For Expansion

"In the past four years alone our collection has nearly doubled in size . . . because of munificent gifts to the nation on the part of individuals and organizations," acknowledged Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, as he spoke at the official opening of the new Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art, attended by many of the nation's leading numismatists.

Excerpts from Dr. Carmichael's speech are as follows:

Mr. Secretary, Senator Anderson, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen: on behalf of the Chancellor and the Regents of the Smithsonian Institution I am privileged to welcome you today on the occasion of the opening of our newest exhibition, the Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art.

Although this is the most recent of the Smithsonian Institution's displays, the collections that you are about to see include some of our nation's earliest acquisitions.

As far back as the 18th century there was begun, at the United States Mint in Philadelphia, the formation of our country's first coin collection. In 1792 and during all the remaining years in his career, the United States' chief coiner, Adam Eckfeldt, set aside a specimen of each type and date of coin minted.

The Mint's collection was increased systematically through purchases made possible by an annual appropriation from Congress since 1839. This original collection was transferred to the Smithsonian after the First World War and is known for the unique or extremely rare pieces it contains.

One of its sections is devoted to the pattern or experimental pieces which were made at the Mint as early as 1792 and continued until fairly recent years.

New Jersey Dealers To Form Organization

Formation of the North Jersey Stamp and Coin Dealers' Association has been announced.

Officers include Joseph Edelman, president; Edward Goodnough Sr., vice president; Edward Goodnough Jr., secretary-treasurer, and Paul Nixon and Howard Niblett, board of directors.

Next meeting is slated for Tuesday evening, April 4, at the Negev Stamp Company, 28-05 Broadway, Fairlawn, N. J. North Jersey dealers are invited.

Many of these designs were newer adopted, but they served a useful purpose in helping our coin-engravers arrive at designs that would be attractive as well as resistant to wear. The artistic merit of some of these patterns is indeed unusual, as you will soon see.

The main display in the new hall is dedicated to Monetary History and illustrates in a sequence of specially designed cases the major aspects of the development of money economy from the beginning of primitive barter to the establishment of our modern monetary systems. The exhibits are arranged to show the evolution of money within the sequence of significant historical events, and as an integral part of the cultural development of human society.

This new exhibition forms an important step in the Smithsonian's long-range program of exhibition modernization. Displays of coins, tokens, and paper currencies are arranged in their historical and cultural contexts, rather than by conventional classifications. These exhibits, we feel, are a significant advancement in our efforts to bring the great educational resources of the Smithsonian to the public.

This new Hall of Monetary History was planned, and its construction supervised, by Mrs. Elvira Clain-Stefanelli, Associate Curator of the Smithsonian's Division of Numismatics. The exhibits were designed by Harry Hart; they were prepared and installed by Frank Gambino and his exhibits preparators, under the overall direction of Bella S. Bory, Assistant Chief of Exhibits, and Benjamin W. Lawless, Jr., in charge of the Exhibits Laboratory of the Museum.

It is a pleasure and a privilege to acknowledge in your presence their contributions in bringing this new exhibition to completion. I wish I had the time to mention also by name the scores of our colleagues who have assisted them in this endeavor.

Their work now is on view before you, and I would like to ask our Curator of Numismatics, Dr. Vladimir Clain-Stefanelli, to assist the Associate Curator of Numismatics, who happens to be his wife, Mrs. Clain-Stefanelli, in leading us to the doorway which they will open for us.

Here is the new realm, in the new world, of the goddess Juno Moneta, whose temple above the ancient Roman Mint gave its name to our word "money", the history of which we celebrate today.

ENTERED AT THE post office at Sidney, Ohio, as second class mail matter under act of March 3, 1879, as amended by the acts of June 11, 1934, and October 30, 1951

NEWS ITEMS, articles and photographs pertaining to coins and coin collecting are welcomed. However unsolicited material can not be acknowledged nor returned unless accompanied by return postage and self-addressed envelope.

Prorating Proof Sets

The prorating of large proof set orders is extremely fair and just. (The Philadelphia Mint is currently shipping all small orders. On orders of 100, the Mint is shipping 75 sets with a possible 25 more if production warrants it.)

proofs from collectors and dealers.

What will the present action do in the long run? For people who want a large quantity of proof sets, they will increase their number of 100 lot orders, knowing they will get only 75. They will be tying up more money to receive fewer proof sets, thus the cost will be higher, therefore causing the market price to be higher.

This is not what the Mint officials had in mind, but they have a bull by the tail.

Oh! for the days when you sent your order, received your acknowledgement one week later, and your coins arrived six weeks after that!

Don't Cancel Now!

Several clubs are cancelling their plans for exhibits during National Coin Week, April 23 to 29.

Of course, no one can force you to exhibit your coins if you don't want to. But the success of this year's National Coin Week depends, in part, upon the number of coin displays in as many public places as possible.

Granted, there is a problem of theft, but there are positive steps both clubs and individuals can take to combat this.

Next week in Coin World we will have a "how to" section for National Coin Week. One of the articles is how to overcome the possibility of loss.

If your club has been talking of cancelling any exhibit plans, see next week's Coin World. Don't give up your exhibit plans now!

Unanswered Letters

With several trips recently and working on the Civil War Centennial edition, our unanswered mail has begun to pile up.

If you have written to us recently and have not received an answer, please be patient. We will answer your letter as soon as we can.

Texas Club Meets At Bank

The Center, Texas, Piney Woods Coin Club of Shelby County has scheduled its April meeting for Thursday, April 13, in the Farmers State Bank, starting at 7:30. Interested visitors are welcome.

The Piney Woods club holds an auction, has a program, and gives special awards at its regular sessions. Its membership totals 52, in a community of 4,000 population. The club plans to observe National Coin Week by placing displays in the bank.

Officers of the group include Hilton Taylor, president; Dr. T. L. Hurst, vice president, and Ava Setzer, secretary-treasurer.

New Mexico Club Formed

New Mexico has added a new coin club, with the recent organization of the Curry County Coin Collectors Club of Clovis, called the "5 C's". At the first meeting, the following officers were elected:

R. N. Todhunter, president; R. C. Malone, vice president, and Mrs. N. A. Hanson, secretary.

Meetings will be held in the City Court room on the second floor of the Clovis city hall, through the cooperation of the Clovis police department and city officials.

Letters To The Editor

March 23rd edition (Civil War Centennial) is sensational! Enclosed is 35 cents for my extra copy. Every time you come out with a special edition, it arouses me to begin studying and collecting that particular branch of numismatics.

I sincerely believe that you and your paper are rapidly turning coin collectors into numismatists. Want to thank you and your staff for the hard work you are performing to enlighten me so that I can relax and enjoy my hobby!

Del Schuler
 Norwood, Ohio

Congratulations on the fine, large Civil War edition and getting it in the mail so soon. Thanks also for the nice editorial on advertising. It makes sense.

Louis Bell
 Decatur, Alabama

Here's that subscription to help you on "your hopes" for the anniversary.

The Austin, Texas, Coin Club of which I am the president is donating the subscription to the Austin Library, and the bonus will go to the new Howson branch.

The check is enclosed from the Austin Texas Coin Club.

Good luck to all of you,
 Dolly-Maude Harris,
 President,
 Austin Texas Coin Club

Enclosed find copy for my third mail bid sale.....because the response has been good to the two previous ones.

Frank Colton
 Aurora, Illinois

Your book issue was the best Coin World to date—a reprint of the list of books is a must. I am sure that Mr. Boraker expressed (in No. 46, p. 40) the feelings of a vast number of numismatists by asking for more along this line.

No. 46, front page: "New South African decimal sets for sale at 12 s. 6d."!! (Did they change their minds in Pretoria?)

J. B. Westergaard
 Clagary, Alberta, Canada

Please let it (my subscription) expire. I've decided I'm not smart enough to understand the intricacies of numismatology. Think I'll collect arrowheads instead! Thanks.

W. A. Moll
 Washington, D. C.

My last ad brought terrific results! Here is copy for two more. You are certainly to be complimented on the quality publication which you are putting out. You have made mistakes, as anyone would, and as long as you profit by them, they are not fatal.

I think there are more interesting and important things than singles or rolls, sealed or unsealed proof set envelopes etc. There are more interesting and important things in this field to concern oneself over.

Ed K. Bell
 Smithfield, N. C.

Let's have a different pose of "Dick" on the editorial page.

Joseph J. Peltier
 Racine, Wis.

.....I was interested in the letter from C. C. Lamb, of Kansas City, Kansas, regarding an idea for insurance for coin collectors by a group of collectors themselves. I like the idea and think it should receive consideration. I would definitely wish to be given an opportunity to participate.

Mrs. Glen A. Howe
 Medaryville, Ind.

Just a few words to congratulate you on the wonderful paper you publish. I wish I could get a copy every day instead of each week. Keep up the good work and you'll have 100,000 subscribers.

Joseph Rossie
 Clarksdale, Miss.

You have a splendid pull. I have received many, many more orders from my few ads than from a competitive paper.

A. L. Hayes
 Dallas, Texas

Would like to offer one suggestion if I may. Would you please print your classified listing in each issue on the same page that they start on? I always seem to forget the numbers.

James D. Ryken
 Latimer, Iowa

Thanks for so wonderful a paper, and to the dealers or others who use P. O. box numbers, keep using them and assure those who send coins or money to you a safe arrival of your mail. A lock P.O. box is a lot safer.....I certainly have no objections to the P.O. box advertising.

Kenneth M. Hively,
 Chief of Police
 Calistoga, Calif.

We especially like your "Trends of Today's Coin Values" and think you should expand it a little more, even if you have to publish it monthly or twice a month..... please keep up the good work. Your paper is truly the collector's paper because you have everything in it for him.

Bill Kearns, president
 Cenla Coin Club
 Alexandria, La.

(We) believe that (Coin World) is performing a useful service for all those who are interested in coinage and in numismatics in general. We believe that there has long been a need for a paper of this sort and trust that your publication will continue to grow in value and in circulation.

Andrew E. Nuquist, Sec.
 Chittenden Cty. Coin Club
 Burlington, Vt.

Just a word of appreciation for the article which appeared in Coin World concerning my research in preparing a reference book on Michigan Historical medals. Since the article appeared due to the kindness of people who wrote to me I have learned of several more specimens previously unknown to me. I am again enclosing an ad to appear in Coin World as the response to all previous ads has been very satisfactory.

Marie A. Johnson
 Muskegon, Mich.

My 48 weekly copies of Coin World have never ceased to give me a source of satisfaction and pleasure. I am a small collector who wishes to compliment you on your fine publication. By now, you have probably received the subscriptions of several of my school children whom I have interested in numismatics.

In two years I have purchased and sold at cost 1,188 coin folders ranging in denominations from cents through silver dollars and type sets. As I am a member of A.N.A., these same children of third through sixth grades have been encouraged to plan a show case for national coin week... our third annual display.

Mrs. Audrey S. Miller
 Merrick, N. Y.

I've been following your monthly report on U. S. mintage of coins for 1961 and although the month March is about over, you still print January's mintage. At least, for the benefit of the many readers, you could have at least labeled it as January's mintage."

Morris Schlestein
 Brooklyn, N. Y.

Here's a little help for your first birthday. Down through the years I've subscribed to many, but being a charter member of Coin World, it will not be too long, it will be my only one!

Your paper has an excellent format and is extremely well planned. Not only do I hope you celebrate your first, but your 50th as well, even though we'll probably not be here to see it. Jim Kelly is doing a very fine job on Trends. I commend him. In fact, you're all doing wonderful. Keep up the good work.

P. S. People and other papers have to be jealous or they would not knock you at times. I'd rather be knocked than not even noticed. Competition causes jealousy.

Pat Warner
 Oklahoma City 12, Okla.

At our coin club meetings, we always discuss articles that have been published in Coin World. We all agree that your weekly paper is the best in the coin world today. In grade it is nothing short of "brilliant proof."

Robert E. Moon, Sec.
 Community Coin Club
 Curryville, Mo.

Sidney Smith Endorses Case

"We are more than pleased with our large Berg selector case—it gave us what we have been looking for—a case where we can display over 400 coins in two by two holders in a negligible amount of floor space," Sidney W. Smith, Miami, Fla., coin dealer said today.

"The case has been more than satisfactory, and I have ordered an additional case," Smith said.

The moving display trays of the Berg Motion Merchandiser case can display more items "top-shelf" than two eight-foot show-cases, reports the manufacturer, the Berg Company, Inc. of Madison, Wisconsin.

Sidney W. Smith, Miami, Fla., rare coin dealer, demonstrates his new Berg "Motion Merchandiser" display case.

The trays follow an automatic cycle, moving forward for several seconds, then pausing for several seconds to permit close examination of merchandise. A handy "hold" switch enables the customer to stop the motion, or reverse tray movement, if desired.

The "endless belt" type of display, it is pointed out, attracts attention because of its motion; increases "impulse" sales; keeps merchandise clean and saleable and eliminates shoplifting losses. It occupies only five square feet of floor space—less for some models.

All models are driven by silent AC motors which drive nylon gears and a silent chain.

For complete information about the Berg line, as well as details about opportunities for dealers and factory representatives, the Berg Company, Inc., 1300 East Beltline, Madison 4, Wis., may be contacted.

Fair To Very Fine Mercury Dime Varieties Furnish Discussion Topic

By James G. Johnson

J. Johnson

My remarks on grading in this column in the March 9 issue have brought in some mail, but I'm going to wait a week before I return to that subject; partly to let the March 16 column "percolate", and partly because I think a little variety is better than too much all at once on one subject. So, speaking of variety, I am going to touch on that a bit, with special attention to Mercury dimes. In the Clearinghouse in this issue, there is a letter asking about the "Micro-S" 1945, with an answer mentioning the 1941 large and small, also.

In the case of the 1941, the large "S" is the scarcer of the two. In 1917, there was another larger and small "S", and in addition, they were also "near" and "far", the near one being the smaller and also the scarcer.

In that answer there is also mention of an article, written in 1955, on Mercury varieties, with a paragraph being quoted. I would like to quote a little further from that same article, here, because it is quite pertinent to the kind of thing that has been widely discussed in the field of Lincoln cents over the past months, and also on some Canadian series. I quote:

"On the 1916-P reverse, you will find by checking the bottom leaf on the stem of the branch, that the leaf is found in short and narrow size, also a longer and wider leaf, and also a straight line, resembling a horseshoe nail and as long as the leaf above.

"On the obverse, you will find the '6' in the date and the 'W' in 'We' are high and very near to the rim. You will also find the date located farther away from the rim on a more flat surface.

"Checking the first '1' in the date, you will find it located high and very near the bottom of the head design, and then again you will find it further away.

"On the 1916-S, you will find the same variations in the leaves of the bottom branch, and the mint marks at many different locations. They will be found almost touching the leaf, in the fork above the leaf, midway between the bottom leaf and the rim, midway very near the stem of the branch, down near the rim, and also large and small 'S' (on the 1916, yet).

"On the obverse, you will find variations in the date, also the high and low or short and long radius at the bottom of the date. The variation there has much to do with the worn dates you see so often on the Mercury dime." (End of quote).

Of course, it could be said with some justice that these varieties the writer is discussing are quite minor and pretty "small potatoes". My point is merely that such varieties were being discussed six years ago, and that there is nothing new in it.

I could also make the point that the 1945-S dime is no better than the 1916-S, 1917-S or 1941-S, or probably some others when anybody gets around to looking for them, so why not put fancy prices on them, too? One answer might just be that nobody has any, in which case they ought to be even higher priced than the 1945-S.

As for the differing locations of the mint marks, doesn't that sound familiar? Seems as though something was mentioned not long ago about "Dancing D's" from Denver on the Lincoln cent.

Speaking of 1916 Mercuries, it is my theory that a lot of 1916-D's are around in circulation, but that the "D" is so low that a worn rim as so many of them have wipes out the mint mark and they look like "P" mint. Those of you who have 1916-D dimes, take note of where the mint mark is and see if you agree with that theory.

I might remind readers at this point of the method of placing mint marks. They are struck into the working die by a hand punch, in Philadelphia BEFORE the working die is sent to the branch mint. Many working dies are made, of course, their usual life being from 400,000 to 500,000 impressions.

Each new working die intended for a branch mint must have that hand punch used. The punch, in turn, may become worn and have to be replaced, and the size of the letter on the replacement may not be the same as the worn out one. So we got a different size mint mark. This hand punch can carry over from one year to the next, as the dated working die cannot.

In addition, the mint mark being punched in by hand, it would be surprising if the position of the mint mark was the same for any two working dies! So if the Denver mint coined 10 million of an issue, then the probability would be that there would be at least 20 variations in mint mark position, assuming each working die lasted for a half million strikings. As for a 50 million issue, what an opportunity for the "specialist"!

But before anybody knows what is what, there must be the same kind of research that the "old timers" put in on the early coins. Until that is done, nobody can say and make it stick that one "variety" is scarcer than another, except where some tangible evidence has shown up. It may take some years before all the evidence is in, in some cases. In the meantime, keep in mind the story about the boy who hollered "Wolf!"

(I have been accused of not having any varieties when I talk like that—as a matter of fact, I have, but they are in a box labeled "do not open until 1970.") In the February 23 issue, I discussed some misplaced mint marks, with special reference to Mr. Cooper's 1957-D cent with the "D" under the "5". I said I had never seen a mint mark that far to the right. Some dozen or so readers have written in that they have such coins and some have even sent me the coins for evidence.

That proves that on some things I am not as observant as I could be. It also might indicate that coins struck from those particular dies were shipped elsewhere than where I was and didn't spread around much. And finally, it proves that, like what used to be said of gold, mint marks are where you find them.

William Kossmann of St. Louis sent in a number of different dates as far back as 1917, with the "D" under the "1", several 1927's, and a 1953-D which was the one that turned out to be a double strike. Frank Trichka of Derby, Conn., wrote that he has a 1953-D with the "D" directly under the "5". You had better look at it

"Aren't you glad that mother came to visit us, George? Now you can put your old coins away and entertain her!"

closely, Mr. Trichka, maybe it is double struck, too.

And speaking of double strikes, Ralph E. Smith of Brunswick, Me., sent in a picture of a 1941 Washington quarter that has a partial stamp of the reverse on the obverse. It was found in a local church collection plate.

The words "Quarter Dollar" can be read right after the Liberty, but in reverse. Which has to mean that it was struck by another coin, not by the reverse die, but whether at the Mint, which could have happened, or outside of it which is more likely, I don't know. And with that admission, I'll bow out till next week.

Something New! Plastic Envelopes

Clear polyethylene, pliable and guaranteed not to crack or dry out. These long flap envelopes give maximum protection against chemical action which causes tarnish, spotting, etc. Coins can be displayed without exposure. Civil War Issue Opens Up Areas

By Jim Kelley

333 West First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Boy, oh boy! Coin World has certainly outdone itself as well as everyone else on their Civil War Centennial Issue! Dick Johnson and the staff of Coin World are to be congratulated on a job well done. Never have we seen so much fine material so well presented, and personally, we were particularly pleased to see this phase of numismatics so well covered as it is one which has been neglected too long. Another reason we derived more than the usual amount of pleasure from this issue is the personal knowledge that a number of the country's finest numismatists are in the south and have put together some outstanding collections. This is a fact not generally known and consequently they have gone unnoticed too long, and have not received the credit due them.

Jim Kelley

We have been aware of this situation for a number of years and this is one of the reasons we were so interested in handling the A.N.A. convention sale next August in Atlanta, Georgia.

There is no question about having a good time there as the south has long been known for their hospitality, and from personal knowledge and experience, we can assure collectors everywhere that they will be in for a numismatic treat as well as a good time.

Incidentally, anyone interested in receiving a catalogue or program of the Atlanta convention may contact either my office in Dayton, Ohio, or the chairman of the convention.

P. S. — It is worth repeating again... Congratulations to Coin World for one of the finest journalistic jobs in numismatics that we have ever seen!

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted Hammer

Ezra Griswold might well be the prototype of the all-around American who pushed the nation's frontier even westward. Such a man was not only versatile, but loved his fellowmen and was pioneer in every sense.

Griswold moved from New England to an area north of Ohio's capital city, Columbus, more than 150 years ago. Even then—in 1803—New Englanders waited and feared the encroachment of slavery. They were not afraid to lift their voices against this evil. Many of those eager Americans ready to risk their lives in moving westward waited only to be sure their new homes would be in free states.

This is the six and one-fourth-cent note, one of the six denominations issued by Ezra Griswold, one of the settlers of Worthington, Ohio, nearly 160 years ago. There are also notes of 12½ cents (a bit), 25 cents, 50 cents, $1 and $2. The notes are dated 1810 to 1819.

Griswold had plenty of company. James Kilbourne of Granby, Conn., in early 1802 formed a company of eight associates to find an Ohio townsite for 40 families. A description of the land decided upon reads like the report of Caleb and Joshua to the waiting Israelites on the land of milk and honey. A large tract of land was purchased from the government and the town of Worthington was established.

Several started for the new land Sept. 15, 1803, but Griswold was the first to reach it, on Oct. 26. Five lots were assigned to him, and he immediately occupied a cabin on the land of another member of the company, Nathan W. Little.

Griswold opened a tavern in his cabin in 1803—the town's first tavern. Also established in the cabin by another pioneer was a store. Griswold built the town's first frame house two years later. Then he started the first newspaper of the locality, and it turned out to be the parent of the Ohio State Journal.

This man of many parts was a private banker and issued paper notes. These were in six denominations: 6¼ cents (half a bit), 12½ cents, 25 cents, 50 cents, $1 and $2. Many early communities had to rely on barter, with tobacco, grain, hides and even bullets used. But Worthington had no such problem and, due to the store, had no wants—and there apparently were no severe hardships, due to careful planning.

Some of the notes were printed in Worthington by Griswold, while others were printed in Philadelphia. Waldo C. Moore, Lewisburg, Ohio, a former secretary of the American Numismatic Assn., and an authority on the Griswold notes, built a big collection of the bills. Earliest note in the Moore collection was dated 1810 and the latest 1819.

Special Exhibits For Pontiac Show

Irving Moskowitz of Detroit, Mich., and Clarence E. One of Pontiac, were scheduled to have featured exhibits of gold and fractional currency at the annual Coin Show and bourse sponsored by the Pontiac, Mich., Coin Club on Sunday, March 26, in Roosevelt Temple in Pontiac.

One's exhibit was particularly timely, as this is the centennial year of Pontiac as well as of the Civil War, when such currency was in use.

Show chairman was H. E. Hotchkiss of Pontiac.

Currency For Change

Fractional currency of various amounts from three to 50 cents was a product of the Civil War, government issues in lieu of small change.

Five Cent Pieces; 20 1960 small date proof sets.

Cartoonist Saves 'Money' On Visit To Remote Island

By Hans M. Schulman

World-famous cartoonist Jo Spier, who is originally from the Netherlands, has recently returned from a trip to Netherlands New Guinea, the large island between the Indonesian Archipelago and Australia. The island is half a Dutch colony and half under Australian administration, formerly partly called Papoua, indicating the main inhabitants. Jo flew to one of the few civilized centers

Hans Schulman, Australian administrator, formerly partly called Papoua, indicating the main inhabitants. Jo flew to one of the few civilized centers in New Guinea to Biak, the end of a KLM Royal Dutch Airlines route. There it was planned to have Jo go to the very center of the country where few white men go or live, and meet with a missionary. A small plane flew Jo far away from Biak to a police post near a lake from where the journey to the missionary's tent would take place.

As is usual in those places the little plane was late in getting off and Jo walked around the beach at Biak looking at the sand and picking up some of the pretty cowrie shells, putting these in his pocket. Finally the plane took off and after some time Jo and the missionary were together and Jo succeeded in making many drawings of these unusual surroundings, which was part of the job he had to do.

The plane was supposed to be waiting at the police post.

Back to the post, to Jo's astonishment, there was no plane.

One of the three Ambonese soldiers in charge of the post said that due to expected bad weather, the pilot had flown away, saying that he would come to pick Jo up whenever the weather would permit.

Jo spent four full days on this lonesome post with the three soldiers in the big tent. At night Jo undressed and slept on the floor like the others, but still accustomed to the civilized world, he took everything out of his pants pockets before folding the pants nicely...including the cowrie shells.

The soldiers looked at the shells and one of them told Jo: "Each of these shells could get you a Papoua wife around here and in the next few days you will have plenty of choice."

Jo looked at me while telling me this and asked me if I understood the moral of this story.

Jo came back with the cowrie shells in his pocket to New York.

Were the Papoua girls so ugly or was Jo's wife so beautiful...? Let's leave the judgment to the readers....

Where will you, as a collector, find cowrie shells like Jo Spier has?

The different numismatic museums have plenty of them to show you, like at the Chase Manhattan Money Museum on 6th Avenue (Avenue of the Americas) and 49th Street. Ask for Curators Vernon L. Brown or David McClymont and just hope they did not take the cowrie shells out of the show cases and fly away to Papoua land....also at the Numismatic Society uptown New York and particularly the most wonderful exhibit at the newest numismatic museum in the country and one of the most attractive, the museum of the National Bank of Detroit in downtown Detroit.

Nate Shapero's collection of odd and curious monies has been displayed in a way which is most educating and fascinating and shows clearly the use of shells and other primitive items as money by the natives.

President Henry Bodman of the Detroit National must be complimented to realize far in advance that a Money Museum as installed by the bank would become a center of attraction for all of Michigan and the nation.

School children and adults alike can now be educated in the history of civilization based on money and explained by Curator Dodson. They will see and hear the most fascinating story of their life. And for those adults who know all about this and are interested in the science of numismatics and want to see the coins of the world or even the rarest of United States coins, Nate Shapero's collection at the museum of the National Bank of Detroit has it all...and if you do not see it exhibited, just figure that Curator Dodson has not found the time yet to get every-

Governors Rulers Of Illinois Club

The first Saturday of each month has been set for regular meetings of the recently formed Lincoln Land Coin Club of Springfield, Ill., with the next session scheduled for April 1, at the V.F.W. Hall, 626 South 6th Street, starting at 7:30 p.m.

At the first official meeting in March, 68 members and guests were present. Fred Backstrom, a United States Secret Service representative, gave an illustrated talk on counterfeit money.

Instead of electing officers, the club decided to give the membership more time to become acquainted with each other, and a board of governors was appointed, comprising Arthur Faucon, Robert Gilbert, Florence Hill, Walter McMann, James Humphrey, David Bowers, Tom Hiler and Ernest Schultz.

At the same time, a nominating committee was selected, to report at a subsequent session. The first election is scheduled for the May 6 meeting.

Stated objectives of the club are: to encourage and stimulate the science of numismatics; to acquire and disperse numismatic knowledge; to encourage and assist new collectors; and to foster the interest of youth in the subject.

The club has already planned its first annual Coin Show, slated for June 17 and 18 at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Springfield. Walter McMann has been named general chairman.

Milliron New Kittanning Head

Kenneth Milliron of Kittanning, Pa., was chosen president of the Penn-Y Coin Club of Kittanning, at the last meeting of the club held in the Armstrong County Y.M.C.A. Other officers elected included:

Glenn Schaeffer, Ford City, vice president, and Mrs. Myrna Reesman, Kittanning, secretary-treasurer.

March 29 was scheduled for the next session of the club.

Mint Employees Pledge Loyalty, Strike Medal

Washington Popular For Wartime Art

By Nathan N. Eglit

The rooting out of disloyalty in the north was one of the first political moves taken by the administration during the Civil War. In the act of August 6, 1861, Congress required that all persons in the service of the government take an oath swearing allegiance to the United States and to support the Constitution, that oath to be taken notwithstanding "any ordinance, resolution or law of any state convention or legislature."

When the Mint employees took the oath, a medal was struck to commemorate the occasion. This medal was engraved by Paquet, the Mint engraver. On the obverse is the bust of George Washington facing right and the legend "The Constitution is Sacredly Obligatory on all." On the reverse, in a wreath, is the inscription "U. S. Mint—Oath of Allegiance Taken by the Officers and Workmen, September 2, 1861. Jas. Pollock, Dir." (Fuld) (Eglit).

This piece was produced in silver, bronze and aluminum. It also appears with a blank wreath on reverse.

George Washington was the most popular representation to appear on medals and tokens during this trying period of American history. He appears on many of the Civil War tokens that were used as necessity money in 1863 and 1864. He appears also on many political medalets produced to inspire loyalty to the Union, on which are inscribed quotations from his speeches and writings.

One states that "Unity of Government is the Main Pillar of Independence," on the obverse, and on reverse is the inscription "He is a Freeman Whom the Truth Makes Free." (Fuld) (Eglit)

Other Washington political pieces are described, as follows:

Military bust to left. George Washington, the Cincinnatus of America B. 1732 D. 1799. Reverse: An eye in center of rays and legend: "The Union Must and Shall be Preserved." (Fuld) (Eglit)

Small bust to right. Geo. Washington. Father of His Country. Reverse: Crossed flags, cannon and drums. Legend: Our Country and Our Flag Now & Forever. (Fuld) (Eglit)

Small Bust in center. J. A. Bolen beneath truncation of bust. George Washington. Reverse: "Avoid the Extremes of Party Spirit" in an open wreath (Fuld) This medal was put out in 1862 by J. A. Bolen, of Springfield, Massachusetts, who in 1864 put out a larger medal of the same design on the obverse. On the reverse of this medal is the inscription "I Hope that Liberal Allowances Will be made for the Political Opinions of Each Other. Without These I do not see How the Reins of Government are to be managed or How the Union of the States Can Be Much Longer Preserved". Below the inscription "Washington's Letter to Hamilton." (Eglit)

Standing figure of Washington and the inscription: The Founder of Our Union 1776. Reverse: "A Decisive War Only Can Restore Peace and Prosperity—1861" (Fuld)

In 1862, the Union League Club was formed in Philadelphia, and consisted of strong adherents of Lincoln's administration. Every large city in the north eventually formed such clubs to support Lincoln and Republican Party principles. They were more or less outgrowths of the Loyal National Leagues previously mentioned, and more highly organized politically and socially. Tokens issued by them are as follows:

Union League, July 4, below, Philadelphia. In center a shield with a scroll inscribed E Pluribus Unum. 1776 to left of shield. 1863 to right of shield. Reverse: Blank. (Fuld) (This token is listed by DeWitt, on which the reverse has the inscription: Organized Philadelphia. December 27th, 1862)

Union League, above, 1863 below. In center Shield of the U.S. between crossed olive sprays. Reverse: Lancaster, Penna. (Fuld)

National Union League of the United States 1863. In center a shield between crossed olive sprays. Reverse: The American Flag and inscription "Long May it Wave." (Fuld)

The grimmer side of the war was, of course, on the battlefields. The first two years were disappointing to the north. Lincoln was not fortunate in his generals. General Scott was too old and decrepit to last as commander in chief, General McClellan found an excuse not to take it out and fight the enemy. Burnside, Pope, Hooker and Buell suffered defeat after defeat. It was the western theater that his victorious generals came from after two years of fighting.

Washington medal by J. A. Bolen of Springfield, Mass., with excerpts from Washington's letter to Hamilton on the reverse.

Great Central Fair Medal.

Ulysses S. Grant, William Tecumseh Sherman and Phil Sheridan started the north on its victorious path after Vicksburg. By 1863 the tide had turned for the north. During these fateful years every general had political friends seeking to advance them in rank, or political importance, in the eyes of the nation.

Medals and medalets were issued in each state extolling the local military heroes. McClellan was a great favorite with the Northern Democrats. A large number of tokens and medalets were issued extolling his virtues.

McClellan appears on various Civil War tokens. A large medal shows him in military uniform in high relief, and on the reverse, an inscription on a ribbon "All Honor to the Army of the Potomac and its Noble Commander," which ribbon is entwined in a wreath enclosing a list of battles. (Fuld) (Eglit)

Contemporary pieces commemorate other generals, as follows: Hooker, a gold medallion of "Hooker's Old Division" (Fuld); General Philip Kearney, in white metal and copper (Fuld) (Eglit); General Custer (Fuld); General Berry, who was killed at Chancellorsville; General Warren, Commander of the 5th Corps, Army of the Potomac (Fuld); General Hooker (Fuld); General

Ammons of the New York Volunteers; General Pope; Franz Sigel; Hancock, Sheridan, Sherman and Grant, as well as many others.

After Vicksburg, a Grant medalet was issued in copper and silver showing his portrait with a long beard. (Fuld) (Eglit) and another appears after the capture of Richmond showing him as he really was with a short beard. (Eglit). After the war tokens were issued in connection with local elections on which the war records of the candidates are publicized. Examples are: Gen. Humphreys (Fuld), General Geary (Eglit) and General Hartranft. (Eglit)

There are a large number of tokens and medals issued for many of the Union generals in later years of a commemorative nature, on G. A. R. medals, or on erection of statues. Some are shown of the erection of Meade's statue (Fuld); the Meade medal presented to the general by the Union League Club of Philadelphia in 1866 (Fuld), the McPherson medalet issued by the Society of the Army of the Tennessee (Eglit), and "Black Jack" John Logan of Illinois (Eglit).

While the generals received quite a lot of attention by the engravers and die sinkers, the common soldier was not forgotten. Many pieces were issued locally in honor of local regiments. Others show the soldier on duty or on review. A few noteworthy pieces may be mentioned.

A soldier standing with bayoneted rifle, with the inscription: "First Volunteer Regiment organized in 1861 in the State of New York". Reverse: List of Battles. Copper. 35mm. Ring attachment at top. (Fuld)

Soldier at attention with cannon and tent in background. Reverse: Cannon and battle flags. White metal. 37 mm. (Fuld)

Group of soldiers on review. In exergue: In review. Reverse: Crossed guns, cap and canteen. White metal. 38 mm. (Fuld)

Soldier, at rest, holding gun. Tents in background. Reverse: stacked guns and knapsack. Brass. 14 mm. (Fuld)

Crude cast piece showing a cannon on both sides. 36 mm. (Fuld)

Medal honoring General George B. McClellan, declaring him the noble commander and bearing a list of battles.

A Civil War token. Portrait of whiskered general facing. Legend: Rhode Island First in the field. 1864. Reverse: City Fruit Store, Providence. (copper) (Eglit)

It has been stated that more men died from wounds on the battlefields and in hospitals from lack of medical care than in actual combat during the Civil War. The Army Medical Bureau, as then organized, was incompetent, inadequate and unable to cope with the medical needs of the Army. Early in the war soldiers aid societies were formed to help the soldier, but as casualties mounted these activities were expanded, and a Sanitary Commission of Civilians was formed in June 1861, after an executive

Numismatic Depth Study

Mintmark Size Study May Develop In Numismatics

By Q. David Bowers

We note that the Guidebook of United States Coins intends to list the 1945-S "Microscopic S" beginning with the 15th edition. Perhaps now that the 1892-O "Microscopic O" half dollar, the a fore mentioned 1945 dime and the 1877-S over S quarter are all now listed a new field is about to develop—that of the study of mintmark sizes. A glance at the Guidebook will reveal that the prices of the 1892-O Microscopic O half dollar and the 1877-S quarter are far above their normal brethren of the same date and mintmark. Undoubtedly the 1945-S Microscopic S will be listed at 10 to 20 times the price of a regular 1945-S dime.

These three mintmark varieties are but just a very few of dozens or possibly even hundreds of variations just as important. Probably the most important size difference in mintmarks occurs in the half dollar series.

Both the 1861-S and 1864-S half dollars occur with three distinct sizes of mintmarks small, medium and large. These differences are not minor.....you could tell the difference a foot away from the coin.

One rare variety of 1877-S half dollar has three mintmarks! Sharp traces of separate S mintmarks are found to the left of and to the right of the central deeply impressed mintmark. A more well known coin is the 1905-O so-called "Microscopic O" dime. This coin turns up fairly frequently; often heralded as a "new discovery."

If you want to be really involved, the search for recut mintmarks and tilted mintmarks will prove to be fruitful. There are probably at least a half dozen different recuttings of the S mintmark on the 1875-S twenty-cent piece, to mention just one coin.

Today, attribution of large cents, half cents, half dollars, silver dollars, New Jersey cents, Fugio cents, etc. by die varieties is taken to be a sign of the serious numismatist. In fact, the discovery of a new die variety of large cent, for example, is certainly considered to be a scholarly contribution to numismatics. It may come as a surprise to many to learn that this was not always so.

As examples, both Newlin's book on half dime varieties and Andrews' book on 1816-1857 large cent varieties received scornful reviews when they were issued. The notice of minute die differences was considered to be simple, unimportant and beneath the notice of a true numismatist.

Anyone who is interested in these reviews would do well to read the volumes in the 1880's of the American Journal of Numismatics. During a recent visit to the American Numismatic Society (located at 155th St. and Broadway in New York City) I was pleasantly surprised to learn that issues of the American Journal of Numismatics dating back to the first year of issue, 1865, were available at the original issue price! As I have always had a great interest in numismatic reference books this news, for me, was like finding a 1909-S VDB in pocket change.

Anyone interested in numismatic research would do well to write to the A.N.S. to obtain some of the available issues. I would also highly recommend membership in this fine organization for students of numismatics. The incomparable library and reference collections are available for study by all members.

In our own priced offering of coins we recently listed two varieties of 1836 Gobrecht dollars with name on base and with starry reverse field, namely original and "restruck," and mentioned that the "restruck" was not listed in the Guidebook. This resulted in two or three persons writing to us for further information on how to tell the difference between the two. A total of 1000 pieces were struck in 1836 of the variety listed on pages 131 and 132 of the Guidebook. The reverse of this "original" coin is aligned in the normal position.

If the coin is placed on a surface in front of you and turned either to the left or to the right in the same manner that the pages of a book would be turned, the reverse of the original will be upside down. This is true also of all coins currently being made at the U.S. mints.

When the same test is applied to the "restruck" dollars of the same type, the reverse will be in an upright position; 600 of these pieces were struck in March, 1837. Further information may be found in "The Secret History of the Gobrecht Coinages 1836-1840" by Walter Breen.

Will anyone possessing coins issued by or copied from the Massachusetts and California Company please contact us? We are desirous of compiling a listing of the various die varieties known and resolving the origin of the various overstruck and differently worded varieties.

Hank Spangenberg recently reminded us of an old numismatic puzzle: Certain early quarters, particularly of the years 1815, 1818

Filled Die Values, Finds Still Available Discussed

I have a 1960-D cent with no 9, in B.U. condition, so I know that it has not been removed. I also have a 1943-S cent without a "4" and the "S" is out of line. Do these have any value?

Eric J. Redd
Ogden, Utah

ANSWER: These are examples of "filled dies" that we have discussed in this column several times. Of them, Kolman in his "Numismatic Lincoln Cent Errors" says this:

"These are not important errors, and do not have high valuations, mostly 25 cents to 50 cents which reflect only a dealer's service charge for handling this type of material."

Dies fill up with dirt or metal particles and flatten out at those places, which makes that part of the coin just blank. Of course, if the die gets filled at some point that makes a spectacular effect, like the 3-legged Buffalo, then the value goes up. But missing letters and figures are not very scarce.

As for the "S" being out of line, see this column over the past few weeks, on how Mint marks are made.

I recently opened up the envelope on a 1956 Proof Set and found two dimes and no cent. I have not heard of such a mistake. Does this add to the value of the set?

Hy Kisin

Flushing, N. Y.

ANSWER: Not particularly, but you can trade the extra dime for a proof cent as they are worth about the same. Such mistakes do happen.

Robert R. Shaw of Newton, Mass., writes at some length of a number of cent "finds" he made last summer. He would like others to know that the "good ones" are still in circulation. Here is his list, and a quotation from his letter: "one 1909-SVDB VG; one 1931-S VG-F; one each 1914, 1913, 1912, 1911, 1910, all "S" mint from G to VF; 11 1955 "shift" cents ranging from F to AU, and oddly enough one 1894 I.H. in XF (some-one must have had that "Injun" in his piggy bank for quite a while).

"I found many 1915-S, 1923-S, 1924-D and 1926-S cents, also. I think my finds of the shift 1955 cents is explained by the fact they were shipped to Boston banks, plus a little luck!

If I found all the above in about $600 worth of rolls over a period of three weeks, why can't I find some of the other minor "keys" such as the 1922-D or plain, and the 1931-D or even a 1909-S for that matter? I don't expect to find a 1914-D for a long time. Now I feel that the 1931-D's are under-rated, and much scarcer than people think.

"Ever since then, for the past six months, I have been through about $50 worth a week, and haven't found a thing worth while. I guess that is the way it goes. Luck goes as fast as it comes.

"I wasn't too surprised to find the 1909-SVDB because a lot of people are finding them, but I was amazed to find the 1931-S. They are harder than most, as more of them were taken or kept out of circulation back in the '30's by smart people.

"So, to all collectors; keep looking and some day with patience and luck, you most likely will come up with something big enough to be proud of because you found it, just as I am."

COMMENT: Mr. Shaw has made his own best comment.

Your "Coin Tests" are quite interesting, but I have one suggestion to make them better: instead of putting "Answers elsewhere in this issue," put the page number where they are, or print them upside down under the questions.

Harry English
Falls Church, Va.

Legislation of 1866 created the five cent nickel coin, but specified that it could not be given in exchange at the mint for cents, half cents or two-cent pieces.

A SERIES!

The firing on Fort Sumter one hundred years ago this April marked the beginning of the War between the States. Today, we begin the five year centennial of this historic event. Coin World joins in commemorating this event by preserving in metal the heads of state for both the North and the South: Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis.

Bronze medals have been struck bearing the portraits of these two leaders. Above the three-quarter view of Lincoln and Davis appear the words: 1861 - CENTENNIAL - 1961, below, the words: WAR BETWEEN THE STATES.

On the reverse of this medal is a symbol familiar to 50,000 collectors — the revolving globe of the world, Coin World's trademark! An entire series of these commemorative medals is planned, maintaining the continuity of this reverse. Each year, a prominent event or person will be placed on the obverse portraying a part in a series of American numismatic events.

You will certainly want the first in this series of Coin World medals. These half dollar sized medals will form a companion piece to your commemorative half dollars, so-called half dollars, and other half dollar size medallion series.

Word Bank Comes From Italian Word, 'Banca'

By Hank Bleciuk

Hank Bleciuk

Too often we take words for granted. We use them with the familiarity of time, yet we seldom know the whys and wherefores of their existence. Such a word is "bank." Since it has been used quite freely in this column during the past few weeks, I think we should know a bit more about it.

Our present day use of the word bank is derived from the Italian word "banca", meaning bench.

Even though the word is Italian, the Jews were first responsible for the application of the word. Jews, the first to practice the business of lending money, used to assemble in the market places in Italian towns seated on benches.

During the course of years, people associated bench (or banca) as a source of money, hence the term "bank" as we know it today. The money lenders who failed in their business had their benches removed or broken. From this, we coined the word "bankrupt." So now let me step down from my "bankrupt bench" and continue with the list of definitions.

REISSUED NOTES—Notes received by the issuing bank or firm and later put back into circulation. There are different types and reasons for reissued notes. Some were originally redeemed and later, of necessity, put back into circulation. Some were reissued by an entirely different agency or person. Notes of the defunct Agricultural Bank of Tennessee were stamped with a round or oval stamp by one A. J. Stevens of Des Moines, Iowa and were put into circulation in that state. Most reissued notes will bear some type of notation.

SAFETY FUND NOTE—This was a plan employed by a few states, notably New York and Michigan, to enhance the reliability and stability of notes issued by the plan's members. Banks who were members of the Safety Fund were required to pay a percentage of their capitalization into the fund. The money thus collected would be applied against any debts incurred by an insolvent member of the fund. Unfortunately, the plan did not work out as expected and was discontinued.

SCRIP—A note or certificate entitling the holder or bearer to money, merchandise or service as specified on the scrip. Some scrip could be redeemed or exchanged on demand, while other scrip specified a future date for such redemption.

redemption.

STATE BANK NOTE—Notes issued by a bank which was chartered by the state. Many states had the authority to issue state charters to individuals for banking purposes prior to 1862. As a rule, these chartered banks generally operated on a more sound basis than unchartered banks.

SUTLER NOTE OR SCRIP—A sutler was a merchant who dealt primarily with the military. During the Civil War, sutlers would follow the army and provide the troops necessities and luxuries (cigarettes, writing paper, bakery goods, etc.). The sutlers were authorized to issue notes or tokens, bearing their name, good in ex-

Coinarama At Danville To Be April 15

The Danville, Va., Coin Club has scheduled its third annual Coinarama for Saturday, April 15, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., at the Elk's Club auditorium on Main Street, Danville.

Exhibits, bourse tables, and a members' contest will be features of the show. Best-in-show exhibit award will be a silver pitcher, donated by a local bank. Other awards will be made in U.S. Coins, U.S. Paper Money, and Confederate and miscellaneous.

Dealers' bourse tables are under the supervision of chairman Carl F. Berry, with a limit of 20 tables on a first come, first served basis. Reservations may be made with Berry at Berry's Business Machines, Danville, or L. C. Ivey, P.O. Box 991. Cost is $7.50 per table. Protection will be available and the show will be insured.

Last year's Coinarama was attended by more than 1,000 persons, and was the largest coin show ever held in that area, according to chairman Raymond Oskey, vice president of the Danville Coin Club. This year's show is expected to be even bigger.

April 12 Meeting Date

Next meeting of the Indiana County, Pa., Coin and Stamp Club is scheduled for Wednesday, April 12, at 7:30 p.m., in the Homer City Fire Hall. At the last session exchange of coins and stamps was featured with members providing their own card tables for display.

Anniversary Soon

The Central Missouri Coin Club of Sedalia will celebrate its first anniversary at its April meeting. The club was formed in April, 1960, and has a membership of 35. President is H. R. Garrett, and Ernest Holst is secretary.

change for merchandise. (Much like the PX coupons or chits that were issued during World War II). On pay day, the soldier was required to pay the sutler the amount due him before leaving the pay table. Sutlers ceased to exist as such after the Civil War.

TERRITORIAL NOTE—Notes issued by a chartered bank or other agency by Territorial authority. Omaha City, Nebraska Territory, issued some of the most beautiful notes ever engraved.

VIGNETTE—The pictorial portions of the engraving. Most notes have a large or central vignettes. These vignettes were often used on more than one bank note and it is interesting to find two different notes with the same vignette.

WARRANT—Notes issued by political subdivisions. These usually were circulated in the form of a loan, at times were interest bearing and could be used in the payment of taxes or other debts due the issuing agency.

WILDCAT NOTES—Notes of a bank or other institution that did not have a state or territorial charter. These were the most speculative of all notes.

With the above term we come to an end of this short descriptive listing of terminology. In the weeks to come, some of these will be dealt with at length. Others will be added as necessary. Till then, happy hunting!

NICK-L-KLEN DALLAS

Nick-L-Klen softens and loosens rust and corrosion that attacks nickels. It will not harm the metal (I have had nickels in the solution for over a year to observe harmful effects — there were none). Any collector of nickels, Shield, V's, Buffalos, or Jeffersons has found nickels that were so black that they had become uncollectable. Nick-L-Klen does not shine or polish coins. Just cleans. Any dark Jeffersons will lighten to BU just by soaking for a day or so.

Price is $1.00 per bottle. Postpaid

Nickel Post War

The first nickel, authorized by an act of congress May 16, 1866, was of 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel. It weighed 77.16 grams.

Bradley Field, Marion, Ind., high school senior, who caught a "Numisgnat," made it visible to save others from its dangerous bite, is shown holding the dangerous critter. One of the judges at the recent Marion Coin Club show asked that the numisgnat be exhibited at the forthcoming Indiana State Numismatic Association show May 19-21 in Evansville.

Numisgnat Threat To Entire Hobby

NUMISGNAT (numis gnaet):
Danger, Do Not Feed!

A rare species of the Numisgnat, commonly known as the coin collector's bug, was captured by Lloyd Griffiths and Bradley Field in the vault of a Marion, Ind., bank after a fierce struggle in which both were bitten, according to a dispatch from the Marion Coin Club.

The symptoms of its bite are easily recognizable but few people have ever actually seen the bug. This particular species is a southern variety and can be identified by its wings. (Confederate bills.)

It feeds mostly on silver and gold. Its dislike of copper was noted recently when it was caught mutilating a 1931-S cent. Its sting has been known to create a mild form of madness causing its victims to travel great distances in order to trade bright shiny coins for discolored old ones. The disease is very contagious and no successful treatment has been found.

Note the tweezer-like antennae which it uses for carefully sorting only the most valuable coins which it recognizes purely by instinct. Readers will observe that its bead-like eyes have 20-20 vision.

Michigan Group Will Halt Banquet

First of the large conventions to put the innovation into practice, the Michigan State Numismatic Society's spring Show will dispense with the customary Saturday evening banquet when it stages its semi-annual meet at the Occidental Hotel in Muskegon on April 7-9.

Instead, there will be a special dealers' buffet luncheon immediately following the close of the bourse on Saturday night. One ticket for the luncheon is included in the bourse fee with additional tickets available.

Major feature of the convention is expected to be the exhibits, for which 19 awards will be made. In each of six categories, including juniors, three winners will be announced, in addition to which there will be a best-in-show. First place trophies will be given, and second and third place certificates. Best-in-show receives a trophy.

General chairman of the convention is P. H. Frans, Holland, Mich. The Muskegon Coin Club is host.

Markle Collectors Form Unique Group

A group of coin collectors in the Markle, Indiana, area has formed the Markle Coin Club. It has been meeting above the Markle Fish and Game Club. With a population of about 800, Markle may be one of the smallest communities in the country to have its own coin organization.

Auction Date In April

Wednesday, April 5, has been set for the annual spring auction sponsored by the Burlington, Iowa, Coin Club, slated for the meeting room of the Burlington Y.M.C.A., starting at 7:30 p.m.

THOUSANDS OF USERS

EASY TO USE — FAST ECONOMICAL
ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

Does not add shine but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Tarnish removes and dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins. It does this in seconds. You will be amazed.

This product, the result of years of experiment, can be used safely on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for a 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins), carefully packed, unbreakable bottle, postpaid to any address in the U.S. or Canada.

The appearance of worn coins, large cents, small cents, etc., can be greatly improved by "highlighting" (contrasting light and dark). Use the Victory Miracle Cloth for this only 50c postpaid.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS

We want you to try "CCC" on your counter. It sells! Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles (postpaid in the U.S.).

U. S. Organization Specializes Only In Foreign Paper Money

One of the smallest, at present, numismatic clubs in the United States and the only local club of its kind, is the Maryland Paper Money Club which specializes in foreign paper money.

Founded in February, 1960, by John E. Sandrock, the club's active membership is restricted to residents of Maryland, but in September it was announced that associate memberships were open by invitation to non-Marylanders seriously interested in this field.

The club holds no regular meetings at present, in part because the founder and president is a career Naval officer currently stationed in Italy, but conducts its business by mail.

Regular members, Marylanders, exchange banknotes through a chainletter which constantly circulates among them. A member desiring material for his collection, withdraws it from the chainletter and replaces it with a like number of notes of equal value.

In this way, members help to build up each others' collections. In addition, members and associates are encouraged to correspond and trade material between themselves.

The club's most important aspect is the exchange of numismatic information on the field of paper money. This is accomplished largely through its quarterly publication, "Currency Collector", of which four issues have been distributed.

All members are encouraged to contribute to joint research projects and to help other collectors.

When the club was begun, there were five charter and nine associate members, all of whom were also members of the World Paper Money Club. A short time later, volume I, Number 1, of "The Currency Collector" appeared as the club publication.

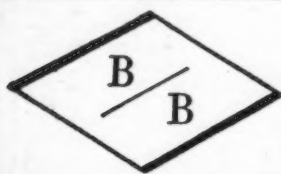

Recently the club welcomed two new members, John A. Koerber, Baltimore, Md., and Alfred J. Nash, Birmingham, Mich. Koerber is primarily interested in collecting German inflation notes and Reichsbank notes.

Nash had worldwide collecting interests—his collection numbers approximately 1500 notes from 75 countries.

A new office of secretary-treasurer and the establishment of $1 dues for 1961 were recently voted by the regular membership. Alexander J. Sullivan, Baltimore, Md., is this new officer. Dues may be mailed to him at 701 Hammonds Lane, Baltimore, 25, Md.

Legal Tender Set

Prior to 1864 there was no specified amount for which U. S. cents were a legal tender, but from 1864 to 1865 they had a legal tender value up to 10 cents. This was reduced in 1865 to four cents.

Depth Study . . .

and 1819 occasionally have the letters "L", "E" or "R" counter-stamped above the head of Liberty.

Does anyone have any information concerning the origin of these letters?

The only explanation that seems to be plausible is that they were so struck at the mint or by foreign commercial interests to denote the weight of each individual piece. "L" would represent "Light"; "E" would signify "Extra" or "Excess" and "R" would indicate that the piece was of "Regular" weight.

While we are on the subject of numismatic unknowns, Harry E. Bosley has given us some interesting information. The 1844 dime has traditionally been referred to as the "Orphan Annie Dime," but for reasons unknown to us. Mr. Bosley writes:

"I beg to advise that it was in 1930 when a Kansas Citian, the late Frank C. Ross, discovered the rarity of the dime after nearly 90 years of its existence. He chose this name because the coin had no buyers, and was just an orphan in the coin world. Thus, the name of Orphan Annie Dime."

Newton Auction Big

The March meeting of the Newton, Iowa, Coin Club featured one of the largest auctions ever held by the Newton group, with Rayford Meredith as auctioneer. Some 50 members and guests attended the business meeting, presided over by club president Floyd Swartz, and three new members were accepted into the organization.

CRAZY-MAN-CRAZY!

I must agree with that heading, anyone who offers to sell Lincoln Cents at this time, for these prices, is definitely nuts.

Because the most common date on this list is a very few months will be hard to get in singles or rolls at a decent price.

But I have two teen-age boys in high school, they eat 4 times a day and three times at night, the soles on their shoes last about as long as their allowance, my telephone bill looks like a list of the foreign nations debt to the USA.

They need money for everything—

Insurance and ski trips,
Lunches and gym pants

A buck for the movie and five for the dance.

It's Valentine's Day, or Christmas or Easter;

Their car needs twin pipes
So it'll run faster.

So — Good ole Dad,
Who never had any,

Just keeps shelling out,
Penny by penny!

I've had it, buddy! Good ole Dad is unloading Lincoln Cents while there's still a few left to unload. Come and get 'em!

Currency Specialist Speaker At Birmingham Club Meeting

Confederate Currency was the subject of Birmingham, Ala., Coin Club's program, held at the Art Museum as part of the Festival of Arts.

Speaker was Halsey Townes, specialist in American and foreign monies, who showed his collection of coins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rousseau were in charge of displaying an extensive exhibit of collections of rare coins and paper money belonging to Birmingham numismatists.

Included in the collections were rare gold coins, a complete collection of uncirculated Indian head cents, and several sets of Confederate money printed in Alabama for state use.

Everyone who attended the program received a replica of an Alabama $100 Confederate bill.

Townes, in his talk, outlined steps leading to Alabama's becoming the cradle of the Confederacy; he also discussed the lives of people who appear on bills of that era.

His most treasured Confederate piece is a $10 Indian Princess note, issued in Richmond, Va.

Confederate Slides Oklahoma Program

Slides of Confederate currency were shown to more than 75 members and guests of the Lawton-Fort Sill, Okla., Coin Club at its last meeting held in the Security Bank and Trust Company in Lawton.

Club president Jack Slaybaugh presented the slides, and Sgt. Albert M. Palange provided the narration.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Halsey Townes, Birmingham, Ala., authority on American and foreign money, holds part of his collection of Confederate bills, subject of a talk before members of the Birmingham Coin Club recently.

Fort Sumter Medals Struck With Actual Wartime Metal

A Fort Sumter Centennial Commemorative medal—containing metal actually fired on the historic fort during bombardment of the Civil War—has gone on sale at $1 each from the South Carolina Confederate Centennial Commission, Box 612, Aiken, South Carolina.

John A. May, chairman of the Commission, announces details of the medal.

He pointed out that Fort Sumter, a national monument since 1948, was the key to Confederate strength and resistance.

Captured by the Confederate forces after a 34-hour bombardment, it was held from April 14, 1861, to February 17, 1865.

Although its walls were pounded to rubble by Union guns, it was never surrendered by the Confederacy. It was evacuated when Union forces occupied the city of Charleston near the end of the war.

Evidences of the bombardment can be clearly seen today—daily tours are conducted at the fort where visitors may inspect the gunroom which was buried for 60 years, the guns and mortars, remains of the enlisted men's barracks and a painting of "The Battle of Fort Sumter."

Kansas Group Changes

The Heart of America Numismatic Society of Kansas City, Mo., has changed its meeting place from the Elks Club to the Paseo Room of the American Legion building at Linwood and Paseo, according to a club announcement. The March 20 session was the first held in the new quarters, the next will be April 17.

Schulman . . .

thing organized in the short time the museum exists, but it is all there. Some of the most unique United States coins can be seen together with the rarest gold coins of far-away countries.

From Muskegon to Saulte St. Marie and from Traverse City down to the Ohio Line the National Bank of Detroit will be known for its fascinating exhibits and I hope that their immense spendings on this museum will bring them the business they deserve.

They do more for numismatics than we numismatists could ever realize. My respects to Nate Shapiro, President Bodman and the others who made this possible and my advice to them . . . write up a million different short numismatic stories connected with one or the other phases of numismatics represented in the exhibit and distribute all over the state to schools, clubs, etc. etc.

The East still remembers the many snow storms or blizzards which were so predominant in January and the early part of February. How many a day we worried about our auction dates falling on a blizzard day . . .

The Parke Bernet Galleries in their monthly bulletin (Vol. XII, No. 5) by the able hand of their president had an editorial, "Kind Words for Blizzards," and he defended the "blizzard" in a most witty and charming way. If you want to read the article ask Parke Bernet Galleries at Madison avenue and 76th street in New York City for a copy.

There was a sale on February the 4th and by midmorning on that Saturday some 14 inches of snow had fallen and it was getting heavier. Two of the auctioneers were stuck some distance away from New York and the one the auction room and the sale was supposed to start at 1:45 p.m. Cars had been ordered off the streets by the mayor who declared some sort of state of emergency. What did Parke Bernet decide? More customers trickled in and many of the usual visitors phoned in their bids. The auctioneer from Queens, after four hours traveling, made it a bit late.

They started the sale at about 2:30 p.m. with a room jammed and at 3 the balcony was even filled up and everybody figured who lived in Queens had left his house early but many hours later he was still unheard of.

A few customers had come into that there would be nobody there and things would sell for nothing. The attendance was over 1000 persons and the session did $6000 dollars over the top estimate.

The moral of Parke Bernet's experience is—for next year—do not worry about the weather . . . it helps the auctions. Abner Kreisbert, please take note, because you were so worried about the February 16-18 Waldorf Astoria sale and let's never worry again about it.

Rare Coins and Estates — Bought, Sold and Appraised

HEY!! HERE IS MY

Folks . . .

I want to start out by thanking everyone for their wonderful response to my last full page ad in Coin World. It was beyond my wildest dreams! There just wasn't enough stuff to go around, and unfortunately I had to return a lot of checks.

Let me tell you a little about my business . . . I have no store, but operate from my house, hence the low prices. However, coins are my only business, seven days out of every week.

There are a number of people throughout Florida who accumulate coins for me, so I spend several days a week on the road buying collections and building stock. Frankly, I prefer to sell single coins to COLLECTORS to add to and improve their collections, not to sell junk and speculative items. However, economics sometimes don't permit this!

When I write an ad, I try to price everything to sell, because frankly I need the money to buy more stock for future ads. Sometimes I get out of line on price, so if you see something you want which looks overpriced, make me an offer.

One more thing! In every ad, there are always a few inexpensive items which get underpriced and sell out in a few days at most. So when you see a real bargain in a paper a week or two old, save your postage stamps, regardless of who the dealer is! Similarly, if a certain roll of coins goes up before an ad breaks, then the ad may be way too low and one man on the telephone can buy a dealer's entire stock the first day.

I made a price error just a few weeks ago, offering 1960-D small cents at $1.95 a roll. The ad was written 3 weeks before it appeared, (not in Coin World) so I was way low. Still, I delivered the few rolls I had. But, the man who sent me a check today for $19.50 for ten rolls (no postage) should have known better!

Now, a question—If you order 5 or 10 coins from me and I have most of them, would you prefer for me to ship what I have plus a partial refund, or return your check and no coins?

Sincerely,

SHOTGUN

MISCELLANEOUS CHOICE

1c 1956 90% off center at K9, AU $15.25
1c 1877 VF-XF but a very dark color, still, better than fine. I'm going to put it in mineral oil for a week $89.50
1c 1877 full Liberty, but a slightly porous surface. VG in any book $6.50

5c 1918-D over 17 VERY SELDOM OFFERED

EASILY identified with the naked eye. This coin has a full rim obv. and Rev., a stub horn, and all reverse lettering is free of the rim. The bottom of 19 is occluded, however the top of the 19 is strong and clear. The digits of 18/17 are strong, full, and clear. I grade the coin VG. This coin is apparently much rarer than the 1916 Std Liberty quarter, and both have always sold way over book $114.50

3-legged Buffalos (1937-D) F-VF $22.75, VF full horn $29.75
3c Silver 1851-O, fine $14.75

ROLLS — ROLLS — ROLLS

Speaking as a numismatist in the purest sense of the word, I refuse to acknowledge the existence of any person who collects rolls for the sake of speculation, YES! Still, I own choice uncirculated coins from before 1900 which would not exist except for such accumulators. Therefore, rather than to poke fun at you, the roll accumulator, I am going to invite you to purchase and store away some of my coins for a rainy day. And those of you who have held quantities of uncirculated coins for a number of years, I invite you to sell me your coins, that I may pass the burden on to someone else at a profit to my associates and myself. Several of us in Florida have lumped our roll holdings, in order to have a large and ample stock of rolls and money to wheel and deal with the big boys. We feel that a roll market governed by supply and demand, rather than by the push-up, push onward boys in the big cities is the only way to protect you, the numismatist! Every roll in our holdings today is for sale at the price listed, or for less if we are too high. The price at which we purchase our replacement stock will determine tomorrow's prices. One last point—we are ready and willing to pay top cash dollar for any uncirculated roll, regardless of whether or not it is listed below. Similarly . . .

I WILL BUY ANYTHING OF SIGNIFICANT NUMISMATIC VALUE HERE GOES!

Coins Of Many Nations Melted For UN Peace Bell

The story behind the United Nations Japanese Peace Bell—created from a Catholic medal, coins from the first 60 countries who became members of the United Nations, and many old Japanese coins, medals and ancient treasures—was presented recently by Dorothy Humitsch, of Cleveland, for members of the Cuyahoga Coin Club.

She accompanied her talk with a display of bells, flags, coats of arms and coins minted before 1954, all from the first 60 countries in the United Nations.

The Clevelanders told her audience that the peace bell idea for the United Nations came in 1951 when Chiyoji Nakagawa, a former governor of the Ehime Prefecture in Japan, attended the sixth session of the General Assembly in Paris as an observer on the behalf of the United Nations Association of Japan. While there, he proposed that Japan make a Peace Bell for the United Nations.

His idea was apparently broadcast rather widely, for he was granted an audience with Pope Pius XII, who gave him the catholic medal of Christ and Mary. He also received donations of coins from the first 60 countries who were members of the United Nations.

This medal and the coins were melted down (a Shinto symbol connected with ancestor worship) to form the Peace Bell.

The Peace Bell was completed on October 24, 1952, at the Tada factory: and it was presented to the United Nations in New York on June 8, 1954, by ambassador Renzo Sawada, the Japanese observer who became the regular delegate and permanent Representative when Japan was admitted to membership in the United Nations in December, 1955.

The Japanese Peace Bell is hung in a 12 foot pavilion made of Japanese cypress wood on slabs of Israeli stone representing limestone quarried from the hills of Jerusalem. The Bell is three feet three inches high by two feet in diameter. The Bell weighs 256 pounds. Inscribed on one side of the Bell in Japanese are the words: "Long Live Absolute World Peace". "A gift of the United Nations Association of Japan, 1954."

At a brief ceremony at United Nations Headquarters, August 22, 1958, the Peace Bell was rung for the first time in four years. Japan's Foreign minister, Aichihiro Fujiyama presented a new silk tassel (bell cord) for the Peace Bell. The minister said: "This is an especially appropriate and auspicious occasion, for today we look forward to a new era of peace and good will in the troubled Middle East."

"Japan has done her utmost to help achieve understanding at the General Assembly's Emergency Special Session, where agreement has been reached on a resolution concerning the Middle East."

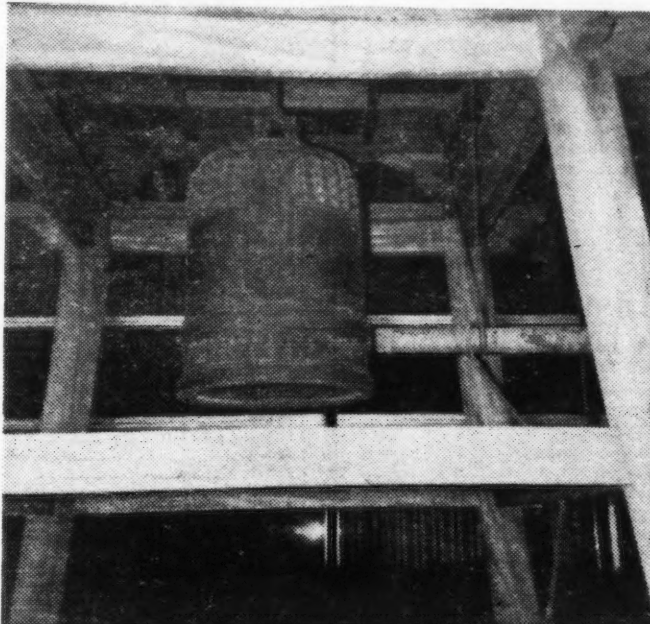

The minister, "hoped that the ringing of the Peace Bell would auger the success of the Secretary General's mission for a peaceful settlement in the Middle East and for a new era of good will and tolerance for all the nations and peoples. This is the wish and the prayer of the people of Japan."

Following his address, given in Japanese, Foreign Minister Fujiyama rang the Peace Bell, which traditionally welcomes peace.

Ahmed S. Bokhari, U. N. Under Secretary in charge of Public Information, replied on behalf of the Secretary-General. "The gift of the new tassel was much appreciated," he said.

Underlining the devotion to peace, Professor Bokhari emphasized that much credit was due

Pirate Money...Collector's Items

PIECES OF EIGHT

and Pirate "COB" Money

There is probably no more romantic coin in history than the original "piece of eight". It was the standard unit of money among the bold explorers who settled and conquered the American continent and our present "dollar" is a direct descendant of the Spanish milled dollar, valued at 8 reales and also known as the "pillar dollar" or "piece of eight".

The term "two bits", etc., came from the practice of splitting the coin into pieces to make change in a money scarce economy. The resolution of June 22, 1775, authorized the first issue of Continental paper money, and provided that the notes should be payable in Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver. Genuine Pillar dollars are scarce and high in price, particularly if they are in mint condition.

Some time ago a coiner in South America made a limited number of reproductions of this romantic old coin. These reproductions are extraordinarily authentic and contain the same silver content as the originals, which they duplicate in every way. Even some experts cannot tell the difference.

We purchased the stock of what is now a collector's item in itself. They are $5.05 each, and as the years pass they will be worth much more. Wonderful conversation pieces or decorative items and a must for coin collectors in this field. There will be no more available after this stock is exhausted.

Circular milled coin, mint condition, or "cobs", $5.05 each, postpaid no C.O.D. Order by number as indicated by photographs on left. These are approximately actual size.

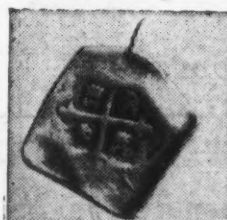

1. Copy of Spanish milled dollar, 1793, 8 Reales, "Pillar", $5.05 each.

2. Copy of Spanish Colonial "COB" or "Pirate Money", struck on irregular planchet, $5.05 ea.

3. Copy of Spanish Colonial COB "Pirate", struck on irregular planchet and edge trimmed for "bits", $5.05 ea.

4. Copy of Spanish Colonial COB, worn "Pirate Money" from which "bits" have been trimmed for change, $5.05 ea.

5. Copy of tiny medal commemorating Emperor Maximilian. SOLID GOLD, 900, $1.50 ea.

Musolino Find

P. Musolino, Bradford, Pa., reports an 1883 over 2 shield nickel, discovered after he read a recent issue of Coin World in which Walter Breen's overdate find was reported.

"After reading his article I decided to check through my collection of old coins," said Musolino.

The coin is not marred, but it has a little grime on it, the Pennsylvanian explained, because he does not believe in touching or cleaning coins.

He intends to dispose of the coin — it is open for bids, cash or trade, he stated.

Last year Musolino reports he found a 1942 over 1 Mercury dime.

Coins from 60 nations went into this Japanese peace bell which can be found in a small area known as the west court garden at the United Nations. It is a joint gift of the Japanese Association for the United Nations and the Israeli government. The base and setting are faced with slabs of Israeli stone, representing limestone quarried from the hills of Jerusalem. The base support and pavilion are 12 feet high. The bell measures three feet, three inches high by two feet in diameter and weighs 993 pounds. Inscribed in Japanese on the bell are these words: "Long live absolute world peace."

to the United Nations Association of Japan for the support and active work on behalf of the United Nations.

Japanese Bells differ from European and American Bells in that the bell is rung by being struck with a wooden beam, against the outside of the bell.

This Peace Bell containing medals and coins of so many nations, Governments and religions all meled together for a Peace Bell could well be the formula for world peace. Japan being the only nation who has experienced the devastation of the Atom Bomb.

This Peace Bell is intended to symbolize the universality of the United Nations and the desire for peace of all peoples.

Following is the list of the countries who were members of the United Nations at the time of the Bell presentation in 1954.

Afghanistan, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Burma, Byelorussian SSR (White Russia), Canada, Chile.

China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, El Salvador, Ethiopia, France, Greece.

Burglaries Continue Across Nation To Plague Collectors

Pat Allen Coin and Stamps, Texarkana, Texas, was burglarized on the night of March 10, and several thousands of dollars in coins were reported missing by the owner.

Some of the items missing are a roll set of brilliant uncirculated Franklin Halfers, a roll set of uncirculated Jefferson nickels and a half roll set of uncirculated Roosevelt dimes.

Also taken were a 1914-D Lincoln cent in Fine condition, and all other key and semi key Lincoln; an 1894-O Barber dime graded VF-XF, 1892-O Barber dime in VF condition and an 1876-S Brilliant Uncirculated Trade Dollar were taken.

They also took a 1936 D Washington Quarter in XF-AU and 9 rolls of 1939 D Jefferson Nickels and 5 rolls of 1950 D Jeffersons that graded VG-AU.

"There were hundreds of rolls of uncirculated Lincoln cents and Jefferson nickels, including 20 rolls of 1942-D. They completely cleaned out my coin shop, bursting the safe, and taking every coin in the shop," said Allen.

Frank Wright, 29, of Rodeo, and William R. Steiner, 26, Fort Worth, Texas, are being held at Atwater, Calif. on $5,250 bail each pending arraignment on charges of burglary and grand theft.

They were arrested during a second "visit" to the Atwater Stationary Store where they took an undetermined amount of collector's coins and stamps.

Police said they also "visited" the Litchfield coin and stamp store, Merced, Calif.

Gennaro Marrone, 47, proprietor of a coin and stamp store in Providence, R. I., withdrew an innocent plea in district court and was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Police said Marrone bought 32 albums of stamps stolen in Connecticut for $10,000 and sold most of them to a Boston dealer for the same amount.

A rare coin collection valued at $2,000 was taken when a Dorchester, Mass., apartment of William Cosgrove was ransacked.

Sheriff's deputies are investigating the theft of a $6,000 coin collection taken from a Wildwood, Calif., house trailer. It belonged to Svend Dupont, owner of the Wildwood Inn. Dupont took the coins from a bank to show them to pupils at an elementary school.

Sheriff John Cain reported seven coins were stolen from the Bitter Root Valley Museum in the Hamilton, Mont., Chamber of Commerce Building. The coins were loaned by Henry Karstens, of Hamilton.

Two Valley, Wash., juveniles were being held on charges of stealing a coin collection from Betty A. Riebe in Puyallup, Wash., recently. The coins were worth an estimated $1,200. The youths were returned from Utah where they spent most of the coins.

A coin collection worth $30 was taken from the desk of Evelyn Switzer at the Brown Roofing Co., office in Meridian, Miss., recently.

Coins and a radio valued at $100 were taken in a burglary at the home of Anita M. Young, Monrovia, Calif.

Santa Cruz, Calif., officials were holding Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Kensinger on a charge of child neglect in lieu of $2500 bail.

Kensinger, who is a coin dealer, reported their 13-year-old daughter, Joyce Elaine, had run away. Police investigated and found the child had been confined to her locked bedroom for seven years without a bath. She was permitted to eat at the family table twice, and allowed out only to go to school.

An uninsured coin collection, assembled since 1908, and valued at $15,000, was stolen February 24 from the Owatonna, Minn., home of Ernest C. Schatz.

Entry was gained by prying open the back door of the Schatz home.

Police said a similar theft had taken place in Austin, Minn., recently with thieves getting $20,000 in coins. They theorized a possible connection between the two.

Schatz said that part of his collection was in the bank, and he had planned to put the rest of it there, but had not done so.

The 65-year-old retired telephone and electrical engineer said his loss included 7,000 Indian head cents, 300 silver dollars and some Canadian dollars.

The Schatz family recently moved to Owatonna from Wykoff, Minn. Schatz is the one and only honorary member of the Winona, Minn., Coin Club. He received this honor several years ago with his assistance, advice, exhibits and moral support in helping to establish the club.

Coins valued at $5,000 were reported stolen from the Key Glass Co., Shreveport, La., and a smaller collection, owned by Dr. Scott L. Tatum, pastor of the Broadmoor Baptist Church, is missing from his home.

H. D. Holder, owner of the glass firm, said the $5,000 estimate is "very conservative."

The thief smashed plates of glass and mirrors at the Key firm in addition to taking gold pieces.

Holder was the victim of a similar burglary last November when $4,000 in rare coins was taken. That break-in occurred a few days before T. A. Bridges reported $69,500 stolen from his home in Southern Hills, La.

Burglars ransacked the home of a Blasdel, N. Y., coin collector and took coins valued at $863. The thieves entered the home of Wilford Krauss through a side door.

A coin collection valued at $200 is reported missing by Virgil Lockwood, Oswego, Oregon.

John Brelectic, an official of the Murphy Iron Bailing Co., Lorain, Ohio, said a coin collection valued at $150 was stolen from the firm recently.

Mintages Short

Since 1900 there have been 20 issues of coins other than gold from the various United States Mints with mintages of less than 500,000. The silver dollar and dime had one each, the cent, two, while the half dollar and quarter had seven and eight.

Complete Set Of Presidential Medals Decor For Savings-Loan

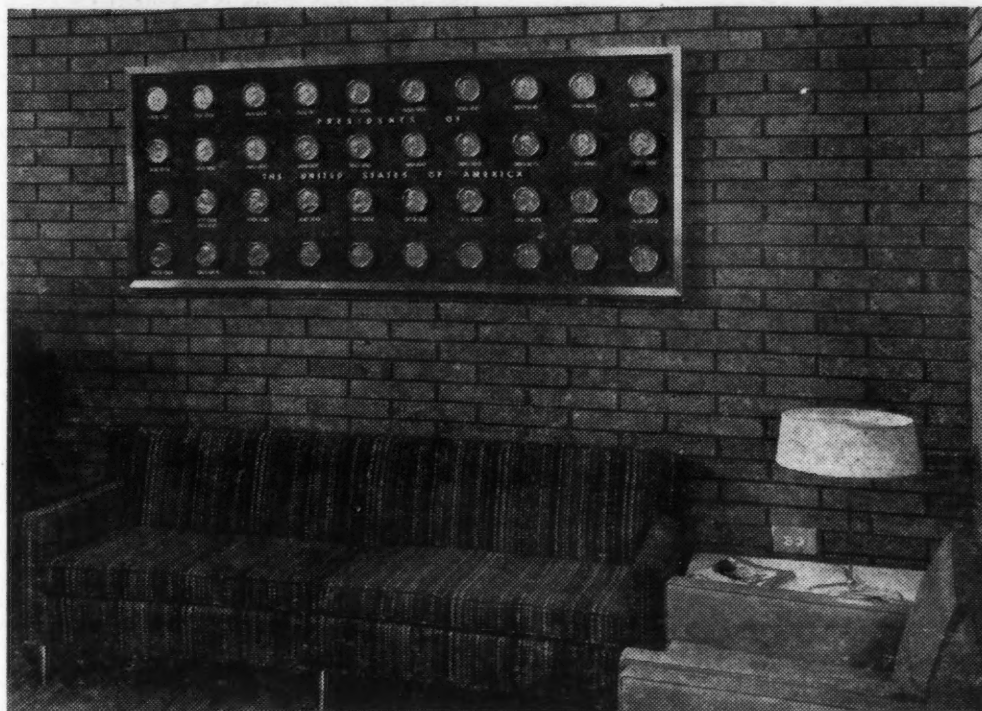

Kankakee Numismatist Responsible

The inauguration of President John F. Kennedy has focused renewed attention upon the unique display of official Presidential Medals in the lobby of Kankakee Federal Savings and Loan Association, Kankakee, Illinois.

The display consists of the Presidential Medal of each United States president from George Washington through Dwight D. Eisenhower, mounted within brass retaining rings upon a 32 inch by 76 inch display board of blue velveteen bordered by one inch of solid brass.

The bronze medals, which are struck by the United States Mint, are three inches in diameter and display busts of each president on the obverse and have varied symbolic and historical designs on the reverse sides.

Space was left on the board for the addition of seven future presidents, and John F. Kennedy will be the first to fill one of the reserved spaces when his medal is struck.

Patrons of the Kankakee, Ill., Federal Savings and Loan Association are impressed with this display of official presidential medals of each United States president from George Washington through Dwight

D. Eisenhower. President John F. Kennedy will be first to fill one of the seven reserved spaces when his medal is struck. The medals are available from the United States Mint in Philadelphia by individuals.

W. A. Schneider

The idea and design for the display came from Kankakee Federal's president, William A. Schneider, who is a veteran numismatist and served on the Annual Assay Commission in 1958. He is a member of the American Numismatic Society, a member of the American Numismatic Association (No. 3536), the Central States Numismatic Association, Chicago Coin Club, Kankakee County Coin Club.

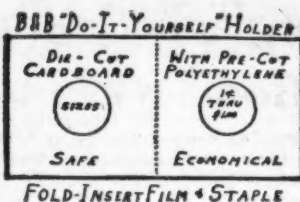

Mr. Schneider gave the design officials of Bank Building and Equipment Corporation of America (St. Louis, Missouri), in 1958 when Kankakee Federal's new building was being constructed. Bank Building manufactured and installed the display board.

Prior to this nation's independence, similar medals were struck by British and French rulers, usually in solid silver, for presentation to American Indian chiefs whenever a treaty was negotiated. They were very highly regarded by the chieftains and became known as "peace medals."

From George Washington's day until 1850 the reverse design of the presidential medals is uniform, showing a tomahawk and a peace pipe above two clasped hands and the words "peace and friendship." These medals were struck in silver and were also used in dealings with the western Indians. Lewis and Clark, on their famous expedition to the Northwest (1804-1806), carried with them a large supply of the Jefferson issue for presentation in conferences and ceremonies.

Each of the more recent medals of the series has a reverse design of special symbolic and historical significance.

The exhibit is featured in the customer's lounge at Kankakee Federal Savings. It has proved especially interesting to groups of school children who have recently toured the Kankakee Federal Savings building.

Spring Show Dates Changed

Because the first date set was on Easter, the Centralia, Ill., Coin Club has changed the time of its Spring Coin Show to May 6 and 7, according to an announcement by club president James A. Keele.

The Show is to be in the Community Center in Centralia. The club's Fall Show, last November, drew close to 1,000 persons in competition with similar shows at Springfield, Ill., and Springfield, Mo., on the same dates, and more are expected for the May event.

Dealers may reserve bourse tables by writing Keele at Box 97, Sandoval, Ill. All who wrote regarding the original date will be advised of the change, Keele said.

Okaw Valley Club Formed

California Club Has Birthday

When the East Bay Coin Club of Oakland, Calif., celebrates its 13th anniversary, at a special meeting on Friday, March 31, every effort will be made to insure maximum attendance.

One of the attractions will be a special award of a BU $10 gold piece, date unspecified. Also, the 1960 "Member of the Year" will be announced.

The March date was chosen for the anniversary observance as the normal date, April 14, has been taken by the California State Numismatic Association convention in Berkeley, for which the East Bay club is co-host with the Hayward Area club.

The East Bay club meets at Bjornson Hall, 2258 MacArthur Boulevard (Highway 50) near Fruitvale Avenue, in Oakland.

Token Authority Makes Study Of Oregon Issues

By Melvin O. Carmichael

We have all heard the definition of an expert as a person who "knows more and more about less and less". We would like to know who first said this. We would like to believe it was Ambrose Bierce, but believe it to be too gently phrased to have been one of his definitions.

Anyway, for those who would like to know more about some of the lesser known varieties of 1959 Oregon Centennial issues the following list is offered. All pieces listed are in the writer's collection.

When Clifford Mishler compiled his 1959 catalogue he knew about most of these pieces but wisely did not include them since some were patterns, or were relatively minor varieties that had no place in a general listing.

The pieces will be listed alphabetically, without regard to their composition, whether medals or tokens, etc.

Embodied in the Oregon Centennial Seal which appears on the obverse of most of the metallic issues are four mill stacks, presumably lumber mill.

At least two dies were used for the issues of a number of communities for some of their tokens or medals show smoke issuing from all four of the stacks, from others smoke issues from only two of the stacks.

In the list, these pieces will be identified with the phrase, "4 stacks" or "2 stacks".

Charter Deadline Set For April 4

The next meeting on April 4 of the Blanchard Valley Coin Club of Findlay, Ohio, has been set as the deadline for charter members to renew their memberships. Any who do not pay 1961 dues by that date will lose their charter membership status and will have to re-enter as ordinary new members.

The club is inaugurating the practice of holding auctions at each meeting, beginning with the May session, and coins for the first auction must be brought on April 4.

One year old last December, the Blanchard Valley club has 89 members, of whom 66 were charter members. It meets the first Tuesday of each month in the assembly room of the Ohio Power Company, rear of 120 North Main Street, in Findlay. Visitors are welcome.

Officers for 1961 are C. W. Luse, president; Lester Brown, vice president; Lowell Dorsey, secretary-treasurer; and E. N. Boehm, William Phillips and C. M. Bowens, trustees.

Incidentally, the Lakeview leather-bucks are still legal tender in Lake County for no expiration date appears on them. Mr. McKinney, formerly head of the Lakeview Chamber of Commerce, told us several months ago that they were going to attempt to retire the Centennial issue of their leather buck and issue a similar item without the Centennial seal on it.

Colorado Railroad Passes Might Startle Conductor!

Sterling silver railroad pass.

By George Fuld

One of the most highly treasured items that any transportation token collector seeks are the famous railroad passes from Colorado, issued in the 1880's and 1890's. These passes, generally hand engraved, allowed the bearer free passage on the named railroad—a deluxe sort of transportation token.

Recently we were fortunate to acquire a newly reported type of these passes, and probably the most beautiful one known. As can be seen by the illustration, it is oblong in shape, being struck in sterling silver, and less than 1-64th inch thick.

On the uppermost half is shown the Oltec Gorge with a locomotive steaming left in the upper left corner. In the center field are the initials TPA (we believe this stands for the Transportation Presidents' Association).

Below, arranged in the field are: T.P.A. / CONVENTION / DENVER COLORADO / 1890 / PASS BEARER / DENVER RIO GRANDE R R / COLORADO MIDLAND RR / UNION PACIFIC RR.

We believe that this silver pass was issued to delegates to the T.P.A. convention at Denver, in 1890, probably consisting of railroad presidents, and this pass was good for free passage on the three named railroads. I would sincerely like to have seen the face of the conductor of the Union Pacific Railroad if someone tried to secure free passage by showing this pass. Certainly this should get some sort of reaction from present day railroad officials.

Washington Auction April 3

An outstanding auction is scheduled for the next meeting of the Washington, D. C., Numismatic Society, slated for Monday evening, April 3, according to a report from club officials.

Feature item is the 82nd copy of the original 125 published in 1929 by Beistle on half dollar varieties. Program will include a "Dr. I. Q." type of quiz.

At the last meeting, prices realized set club records, as did the attendance of 171 which in turn had broken the previous new high set in February.

Highlights of the March auction included: $170 for a G-VG 1871-OC silver dollar; $135 for an EF 1873 $3 gold piece; $60 for a VG 1909-SVDB Lincoln; $40 for an AF 1914-D Lincoln, and $24 for an AG 1885 nickel.

In addition to the scheduled talk by William Cullen on protection of collections, George Vandewende, vice-chairman of the People-to-People program, discussed that project. He reminded the members that it takes more than owning a collection to be a numismatist.

President Howard Rosenberg announced the creation of an award for the outstanding member of 1961, and of awards for first and second outstanding exhibitor. The three awards will consist of engraved trophies, which were displayed.

Brockman Chairman

E. C. Brockman has been appointed chairman for National Coin Week observance by the Cheyenne, Wyo., Coin Club, while Tom Mason has been named chairman for the all-day session on April 27, a regular meeting date but expanded in honor of the national event. There will be bourse tables and exhibits.

Type-Set Holders Exonumist Project

A recommendation that type-set holders for such items as Civil War tokens, Hard Times tokens and so called dollars be considered as a society recommendation to numismatic accessory manufacturers was made by Paul Hamm, president of the Southern California Exonumist Society, at a meeting held earlier this month at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the Numismatic Association of Southern California convention. Future meetings of the Society are to be held on Sundays, the next date to be Sunday, May 21, at either Pasadena or Long Beach.

Virginia Culver of La Canada was named treasurer to fill the vacancy created by the declination of Thelma Case. Ralph A. Mitchell was appointed program chairman with an auction announced for the next meeting. Ethel Crockett suggested a Society medal be considered.

Russell Rulau addressed the membership concerning its purposes and aims. He stated that the eyes of the nation were focused upon the Society through its successful publicity, and that whatever was done here might affect the whole future of local medal and token clubs in other areas. He also commended D. Wayne Johnson of Sidney, Ohio, for his fine support of exonumism in the pages of "Coin World".

Ten new members were admitted at the meeting. These were R. B. Barton of Long Beach; D. Wayne Johnson of Sidney, Ohio; Henri N. Heller of Temple City; Francis G. Crockett of Long Beach; Ethel T. Crockett of Long Beach; Ethel R. Stone of Temple City; Alva Christensen of Temple City; Peter M. Fuhrman Jr. of San Diego; Eugene Cooper of San Diego; Dan Harley of Pomona and Roy Hill of San Francisco.

The secretary processed applications for membership in the National Society from Marjorie Derlin, Henri Heller, Ethel Stone, Alva Christensen, Eugene Cooper and Roy Hill.

Of special interest at the convention were the fine displays of Civil War tokens by Virginia Culver and Karl Brainerd.

Expert Seeks Help From Readers In Identification

By Dr. George Fuld

Having collected merchants tokens for many years, we have come across hundreds of them which cannot be identified as to city and state. Since some identification of these pieces as to locale is imperative to any thorough study of tokens, we are taking this opportunity to ask the readers of the SMT&OPMC's page to help us identify some of these tokens.

In the following group of pieces, of very recent issue, we will give a copy of the unknown token FREE to the first person who attributes the piece as to city and give some background of the piece.

Whenever pieces are attributed, we will publish in subsequent issues the attribution and acknowledge the person informing us of the token's history.

Remember, we'll give the token FREE to the first person identifying it. (All dimensions are given in 1/16ths).

Girls Sell Coin To Winnipeg Dealer

Three Winnipeg bank employees who spotted a rare 1921 50 cent Canadian piece a few weeks ago have received a $1,650 check for their alertness. They sold the coin to the Regency Coin and Stamp Co., of Winnipeg. Somer James, who heads Regency, said his firm was "fortunate" to purchase the coin. Actual payment of the check was televised and appeared over the Canadian Broadcasting station in Winnipeg. Regency has had offers of over $2,000 on the coin. The girls, Susan Hewitt, Eva Evernden and Marie Desharnais, work in the coin cage at the main branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Tintype Mystery Solved?

The Mystery of the "Silver Dollar Tintype", owned by Forrest Miller of Sherman, Texas, and written up in Coin World issue of March 9, may be solved!

Miller's dollar is in reality two which had been expertly put together, within them being a tintype photo of an attractive woman dressed in the style of the 1880's. He had owned it since 1900 when his grandfather acquired it.

L. A. Buckner of Corpus Christi, Texas, has turned up with what he thinks may be the mate to Miller's Dollar.

His coin, made in the same manner, contains a picture of his uncle, Richard E. Buckner, a lawyer in the St. Louis, Mo., area in the 1880's.

L. A. Buckner's uncle gave the coin to him when he was a boy, more than 50 years ago, mentioning at the time that he had had another made just like it, with his wife's picture in it, but that it had been lost.

Buckner says he can't prove that his coin is the mate to Miller's, but circumstantial evidence is in his favor.

Mottoes Tested

During the years 1861, 1862 and 1863 a considerable number of patterns of various denominations, bore the motto, "God Our Trust." "God and Our Country" appeared in 1863 on a pattern two-cent piece.

Mesa Club Meets In Library

First regular meeting of the newly formed Valley of the Sun Coin Club of Mesa, Arizona, was scheduled for Tuesday, March 28, in the Mesa public library, starting at 7 p.m.

Feature attraction of the opening session was expected to be a display of the famous 1913 Liberty nickel owned by J. V. McDermott, a resident this winter of Phoenix.

Primarily intended to cover the areas of Mesa, Tempe, Scottsdale, Chandler, Gilbert, Higley and Apache Junction, the Valley of the Sun club is open to anyone "of any age anywhere in the world", according to club president John White of Mesa. Arizona winter visitors are especially invited, he said.

Anyone who joined the club at the March 28 meeting was listed as a charter member. Main business of the meeting was to accept membership applications, form committees, and to discuss future activities of the club. Tentative plans have been made for auctions, trading sessions and exhibits.

In addition to White, other officers include: Ralph Walker, Chandler, vice president; Casey Ray, Mesa, secretary; Harry Baker, Mesa, treasurer; and Larry B. Marton, Don Carson and Dilworth Brinton, all of Mesa, directors.

order was approved by the secretary of war and the president. This commission was the progenitor of the Red Cross.

In order to raise funds for its purposes, some of which were buying medical supplies, ambulances and other facilities for the sanitary and medical needs of the soldier, fairs were sponsored. Medals and tokens were issued as part of these activities in the various cities where they were held.

One of the first contemporary medals of Lincoln was issued in connection with the Chicago Fair held in 1863. On obverse is Lincoln's bearded bust to right, and the inscription above: Memoria In Aeternum. Under the bust is inscribed: Paquet F. On the reverse is a representation of Columbia standing holding a flag and the inscription: North Western Sanitary Fair. In exergue; Chicago, Ill. 1863. Copper. 58 mm. (Eglit) Only 500 of these medals were struck.

In 1864, the Great Central Fair was held in Philadelphia, and a medal was struck for that event. On obverse is a scene of a wounded soldier being cared for by a medical aide, who is reaching for a cup being handed to him by a standing female figure. The inscription around the edge states that: "We Give our Wealth for Those Who Give Their Health for Us." In exergue: Paquet F. On reverse is the inscription: Great Central Fair Philadelphia, June 1864 (Eglit).

Another token, the size of the common Civil War token, was struck for another such event. On obverse is second annual fair held June 15, 1863, on reverse is: Union Volunteer Refreshment Saloon Inst'd May 27, 1861. (Eglit)

Chain Cent For 10c

The earliest public coin sale offering U. S. cents on record was the sale of Dr. Lewis Roper's collection in 1851. Ammi Brown of Boston bought an uncirculated chain cent of 1793 for 10 cents.

Date Wears Off

The standing Liberty quarter had a radical change in the design of the date in 1925. Before that time the date was the highest part of the coin and wore off first, accounting for so many such quarter with unreadable dates in current circulation.

Everything In Readiness For Big West Coast Show

Final details for the California State Numismatic Association convention, set for the Hotel Claremont in Berkeley - Oakland on April 13-16, have been arranged, and the full list of committee chairman announced, by co-chairmen Don T. Thrall of the East Bay Coin Club and L. M. Bacon of the Hayward Area Coin Club, co-hosts.

Several discrepancies in the location of the Hotel Claremont have been cleared up, some announcements putting it in Berkeley, and some in Oakland. The two cities have a joint boundary line, and the Hotel is on it, with the result that part of the building is on Berkeley and part in Oakland, East Bay representatives have explained.

In addition to the co-chairman, convention officials include:

Winn Osborne, registration; Sidney T. Gilligan, exhibits; Earl A. Parker, bourse; Don Thompson, auction; Erich Werling, lighting;

A. W. Ritchie, Numismatic Forum; Mrs. R. G. McArthur, ladies' entertainment; Robert G. McArthur, banquet; Edward S. Lane, awards; Roy Hill, publicity and Club Officers' breakfast; Walter Morris, entertainment; Bryan Bourke Jr., C.S.N.A. Literary Awards; and Rudy Gjurovich, sergeant-at-arms.

This will mark the third visit of the California State convention to this area, as the East Bay club was host to previous sessions in both 1950 and 1955.

Key Coins, Gold To Be Auction Items

The annual auction held February 6 by the Clifton Center Coin Club of Clifton, N. J., was so successful another is planned for May but emphasizing "key" coins and gold, according to an announcement from club president Donald E. Vargo of Clifton.

Consignments are not being accepted at present until closer to the auction date, but the club wishes to purchase material for cash from private collectors, president Vargo stated.

Due to the membership being mainly juniors of the Clifton Boys Club, they are unable to pay market prices, but will offer an average of 25 per cent off Red Book for keys graded "Good", and 40 percent off for other coins.

Correspondence on these and on gold and rolls should be directed to the president in care of Jeffersons, 281 Madison Avenue, Clifton, N.J.

Sutlers Gave Tokens

Sutlers' checks were tokens issued by Civil war army "canteen" personnel.

Reach the MOSTEST collectors for the LEASTEST cost! Use a Coin World Weekly Ad Contract!

Sharpen Your Pencil . . . COMPARE CONTRACT AD RATES!

Here is a typical example of the advantages in using a low-cost WEEKLY advertising contract: Dealer John Jones runs 3 quarter-page ads within three months, each at the one-time rate. His total cost for the three ads is $132.00.

Dealer Henry Smith has used his sharp pencil and compared the contract ad rates. Result . . . he has a 52 week advertising contract! In the same three months, he has inserted 3 quarter-page ads and 13 Classified Display one-inch "rate-holder" ads — a total of 16 ads at a total cost of $133.20. Was his additional cost of $1.20 worth it? Which dealer got the most mileage from his advertising dollar?

Dealer Smith knows that, with his 52-week ad contract with a minimum of one inch "rate holder" ad appearing EVERY WEEK, he can run a quarter-page ad, a half-page ad or even a full page ad at the lowest ad rates of any coin newspaper! He also knows that he gets the added premium of the WORLD'S LARGEST PAID CIRCULATION among ready-to-buy coin collectors in the United States and Canada.

Dealer Smith has been busy every week "talking" to 50,000 collectors . . . identifying himself with a particular Classified branch of numismatics. Dealer Jones has been content to speak up only three times. Which dealer gets more business from collectors?

Any way you figure it, YOUR BEST BUY is a Coin World WEEKLY advertising contract! You get MORE SPACE to reach MORE COLLECTORS for 50 FEW DOLLARS!

MAIL BID SALES NOW USE 4 INCHES

All such ads require a minimum of four inches of space as they do not appear in the Classified Section. Mail Bid Sale ads must be confined to items offered and no fixed price items are to be included in same ad. Specify closing date, otherwise we establish 10 days from publication date.

THRIFTY CREDIT! $10.00 MINIMUM

Non-contract advertisers should send cash (check or money order) with all ads under $10.00. On orders over $10.00, you may send cash in advance or bank references. Scrip, Tokens Issued By Turnpike

Items Interesting From Numismatic Standpoint

By Jack F. Burns, research associate, section of coins and medals, Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh.

The Virginia Richmond-Petersburg Turnpike is a dual-lane limited access toll road, 35 miles in length. This 70 million dollar highway, which was constructed to relieve congestion between these two cities of Virginia, was opened in the spring of 1958.

Notwithstanding its designation, it is not and was never intended to be a turnpike in the customarily accepted sense. Usually turnpikes are located to keep traffic from congested areas whereas half the length of the Richmond-Petersburg Turnpike is within the limits of the cities.

Eight of its 17 interchanges are direct connections to Richmond city streets and two connect with the streets of Petersburg. There are only three interchanges in rural Chesterfield county between the two cities.

As a convenience to the users of the Turnpike and to facilitate the payment of tolls, a form of scrip was issued by the Authority when the Turnpike was opened.

The script is on white bond paper, safety-printed on both sides, and the size is 1 7/8 inches by 4 1/4 inches with a side strip of 7-16 inches by 1 7/8 inches attached by perforation.

These side strips may be used as a stapling end for fastening pieces of scrip and tag board covers into book form.

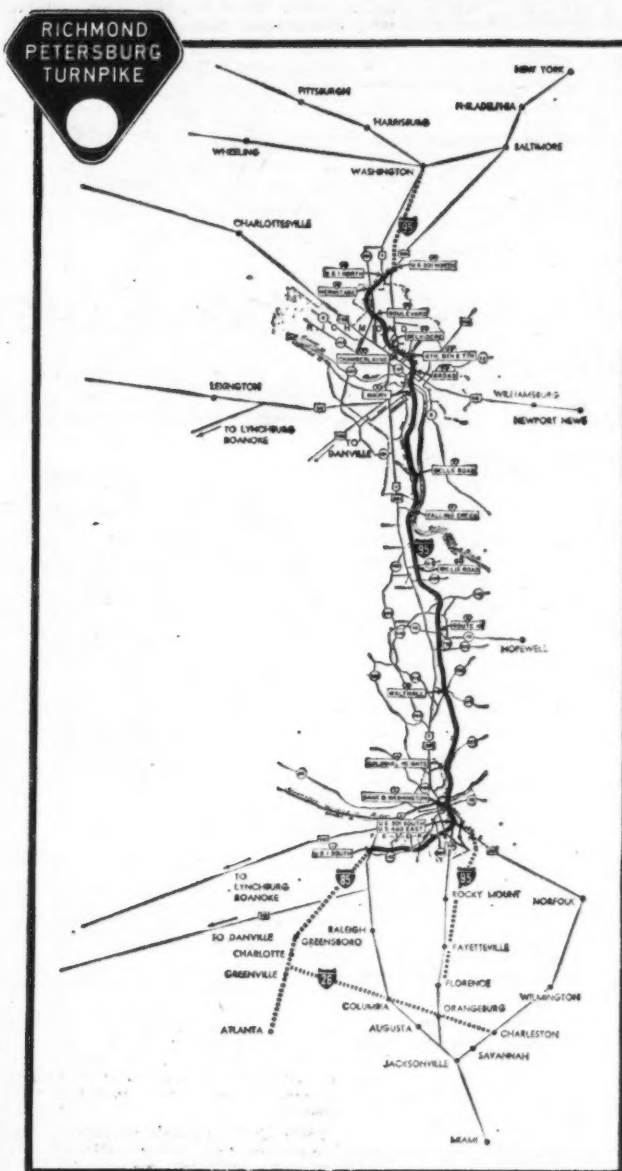

The legend on the obverse is printed in black and the serial numbers on the reverse in red. All denominations of the scrip are identical (see illustration) except for the denominational amounts and the color of the safety-printing ink. The denominations issued and the colors are as follows:

- 10 Cents—Gray.
- 15 Cents—Pink.
- 20 Cents—Brown.
- 25 Cents—Blue.
- 30 Cents—Green.
- 35 Cents—Orange.

The Turnpike operates as a barrier system and not as a controlled system, in that there is no free traffic but there are many points of ingress and egress which are unattended.

All traffic is intercepted either at a barrier station or, in the event the trip does not pass the vehicle through a barrier station, the toll is collected at a point of entry or exit.

Since the Turnpike was opened more and more units of automatic toll collection equipment have been installed at these many collection points for reasons of economy.

In November, 1960, the Authority issued tokens which may be used in the automatic lanes as well as in the manually attended lanes. The tokens were manufactured by Wenthe & Co., Chicago, Illinois, in quantities of 60,000 of each denomination, as follows:

20c Brass, round, 22 mm., fine scrollwork on planchet, plain edge. (Illus.)

Obv. 20c in center within plain circle. RICHMOND-PETERSBURG curving above, TURNPIKE curving below.

Rev. (Similar to Obv.)

15c: Brass, round, 20 mm., fine scrollwork on planchet, plain edge. (Illus.)

Obv. (Similar to above except for value 15c)

Rev. (Similar to Obv.)

10c: Brass, round, 17 mm., fine scrollwork on planchet, plain edge. (Illus.)

Obv. (Similar to above except for value 10c)

Rev. (Similar to Obv.)

At this date both scrip and tokens are being used. With reference to the future use of the scrip, it cannot be used in the automatic toll collection units, it is relatively expensive to manufacture and costly to account for, and it can be used only once.

Weighing these disadvantages against the advantages which may be derived from the utilization of tokens, the officials of the Authority hope the use of scrip will eventually be discontinued as the tokens increase in use.

Burglars Club Topic

Members of the Bay Cities Coin Club of Santa Monica, Calif., heard about burglars at a recent meeting, with Detective Rydgren of the Santa Monica burglary squad as the featured speaker on the topic "How to Safeguard your coins".

Various types of burglars were discussed, from amateur or casual to professional coin thieves. Different kinds of safes and locks and their effectiveness were described. It was agreed by the members that this was one of the best programs they have had, according to secretary Carolyn Nestrick.

Among the displays at the meeting were Crowns of the world, by Jimmie Belton; Swedish plate money, by Karl Brainard; Coins of Africa, by Carolyn Nestrick; gold coins, by Lawrence Morton, and Barbadoes coins, by Max Wedertz.

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

We Present THE OFFICIAL MEDAL Of The

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., of New York and California has been appointed sole national distributor of this medal, which commemorates officially the Centennial of the Civil War.

It will be available in both bronze and silver about May 31, 1961.

The medal, which is 2½ inches in size, is being issued under authority of the Civil War Centennial Commission, which was created by an Act of Congress. The medal will be struck by the Medallic Art Company from designs and sculptor's models that have been approved by the U.S. Government Fine Arts Commission in Washington, D.C.

As can be seen from the above illustration, the obverse bears the portraits of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and Gen. Robert E. Lee. The reverse shows the seal of the Civil War Centennial Commission, having as its main theme, a Union and Confederate soldier. The medal will be sold in its own specially made container and will come with a printed, informative leaflet.

In addition to the bronze medal, there will be an issue of pure silver medals, which will be limited to 25,000 serially numbered pieces.

PRICES OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL MEDAL

The official prices of the Civil War Centennial Medal follow:

THE BRONZE CENTENNIAL MEDAL....$4⁰⁰

THE PURE SILVER CENTENNIAL MEDAL....$30⁰⁰

Please note: Because of the limited amount, the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing silver medals should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.

The bronze and silver medals will be available you may write to either our New York or California office about May 31, 1961 at your local coin and stamp dealer. Coin dealers or others wishing to carry this medal or, department store coin counters, hobby shops etc., or for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
